From Sick Bed to Battle.

We find the following brief sketch of Col. J. H. Moore, who is well known in Dahlonega, in the last issue of the Confederate Veteran, published at Nashville, Tenn., written by "B. M. H.:"

I notice the Veteran occasionally makes mention of some old soldier yet living whose matchless nerve and soldierly qualities were conspicuous in days when such qualities were most admired; hence I venture to submit a brief sketch of Comrade J. H. Moore, who was born in 1842 in Hickman county, Tenn. He is from a line of distinguished ancestors.

After receiving an academic education, Col. Moore (he is called colonel out of consideration for his high character) entered the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis; but when the South was threatened with war he returned home and joined the Seventh Tennessee Infantry. His regiment was soon sent to Virginia, and became a part of Archer's famous brigade, and served the entire war in the Army of Northern Virginia. He was in every battle his command participated in from Seven Pines to Appomattox, and on more than one occasion left a sick bed to join his regiment when he knew they were going into action, only to return to bed after the battle was fought. Comrade Moore is one of the very few survivors of his regiment who, in Pickett's immortal charge at Gettysburg, crossed the stone wall nearest to the enemy and for a moment stood amid the guns of the Federal battery. "Jack" Moore is as gentle and modest as he is brave and honest, and no reader of the Veteran will be more surprised to see the above than himself.

Major Pond's Last Joke.

Few Americans have been more fortunate in making personal friends than Major Pond, who died recently from shock following the amputation of his leg. He was the pioneer in the effort to bring famous European men of letters into direct touch with popular audience on this side of the Atlantic.

As many good stories are told of him as he told of others, and the latest in one of the most characteristic. When he was recovering from the effects of the anæsthetic after the operation, he looked around, glanced downward and quietly asked the surgeon if it was all over. The surgeon nodded.

"So I've got only one foot now?"

"Yes, major," was the reply.

"Well, then, I'll have to ask my friends to give me a leg up."

Why She Enjoyed It.

"I like to go to church," announced Dottie, aged 5, according to Lippincott's, "because they sing nice hymns about flowers and insects and things to eat, and the man in the nightgown talks about birds."

"Why, Dottie, said her mother, 'I don't think there are any hymns about insects and things to eat.'"

"There is so," insisted Dottie. "Last Sunday we sang a beauty hymn about 'Bringing in the sheaves, and today we sang one what began, 'Just as I am, without one flea,' and when we got through the man talked about a hawk and two pigeons."

Subsequent inquiry revealed the fact that the text had been, "Why halt ye between two opinions?"

The meeting of the Educational Association will be held in Atlanta Dec. 30, 31 and Jan. 1.

The Atlanta Spirit Should Become Epidemic.

You often hear used the expression "the Atlanta Spirit." This expression is heard all over the United States, and it's interesting to note what it means, and how it has come about that Atlanta, is today one of the most flourishing cities in the country, says the Toccoa Record.

The Atlanta spirit means simply hustling.

Hustling is rather a slang way of expressing many ideas. A man is called a hustler who goes out after business, makes money, friends and proves a good citizen. A town is a hustler when it does the same way.

To acquire the Atlanta spirit several things are necessary. In the first place you can as a town never have the Atlanta spirit as long as you fall out among yourselves, and do not stand together for everything that you can see is a help for your own town. There is no Atlanta spirit in a town where the business men differ so, fall out among themselves and will not co-operate in city improvement in bearing tax burdens in securing new citizens. It is not displaying the Atlanta spirit to tell a new comer that business is dull, and that there is a poor outlook for your town. It is better to lie a little like Atlanta does and secure the new citizen. It is better to say you are the best town anywhere around, like Atlanta folks always does, when you know there are other towns much better.

The Atlanta spirit says to a stranger, come here? We will guarantee you will be pleased.

The Atlanta spirit says when a big picnic or a barbecue, or any other enterprise is proposed, why yes, I will give to that. Its the Atlanta spirit that prompts a citizen to put his money in home enterprises, rather than to take it elsewhere.

The Atlanta spirit is a mighty good thing to have in a town or community, and we are glad to note that it is spreading all over this section of the south—indeed the south is generally diffused with more or less of the Atlanta spirit, and we hope it will become so generally epidemic that the whole state will be down with it.

It's a mighty good disease to have, for it brings water power development, more hotels, more manufacturing concerns, more people, more money and more poverty.

A man who has time to figure it out has made the statement that three glasses of coca cola or three cigars a day for a year would bring into your home one barrel of flour, 50 pounds of sugar, 12 pounds of corn starch, 10 pounds of macaroni, 10 quarts of beans, four 12 pound hams, 1 bushel of sweet potatoes, 10 pounds of coffee, 10 pounds of raisins, 10 pounds of rice, 20 pounds of crackers, 100 bars of soap, 3 turkeys, 3 quarts of cranberries, 10 bunches of celery, 10 pounds of prunes, 4 dozen oranges and 25 good beef-steaks.

There is some talk of the North Georgia Electric Co. heating up Gainesville by electricity next winter. At one time the same thing was talked of about Dahlonega. We trust how soon at both places for a 50 cents load of wood is gone before you can get comfortably warm almost.

Aron Garner has been bound over in Atlanta for a brutal attack on Mrs. Emma Townley, a white lady of that city last week.

Son Offers Whole Life For Father.

The most remarkable instance in the annals of criminology in Georgia has been brought to light by the receipt of a letter by Governor Terrell from Dr. W. P. Rushin, of Albany, Ga., who petitions the governor to allow him to enter the prison walls of the state and serve the remainder of the life sentence imposed upon his father for the murder of J. F. Lilley, which crime was committed in Thomas county in 1895.

The petition states that the elder Rushin killed Lilley while both were attending a Sunday school convention.

The petitioner states that his father is growing old and the eight years of toil and confinement are rapidly showing their ill effects upon him and that he wants his father to spend his last years at his home with his family and allow him to die in freedom.

Dr. Rushin asks only to be permitted to serve instead of his father, stating that he is willing to enter the state's service as an unconvicted convict and serve until the natural death of his father pays the legal debt imposed.

The letter is the first of its kind ever received at the capital and is the most wonderful act of filial obligation ever brought to the public knowledge.

It is not within the power of the chief executive to grant the request, and the faithful son has been informed of this status of affairs.—Atlanta News.

Nye's First Engagement.

The late Major Pond managed Bill Nye for several lecture seasons, but their first meeting was rather informal, says the Saturday Evening Post. Nye was one day walking down Fourth avenue with a friend, when he spied the major's modest sign in the window of the Everett House.

"Here's the man that incites the lecturers," said Nye; "let's go in and see if we can't induce him to lead a better life."

Entering, Nye removed his hat and ran his hand over the hairless expanse of his head, and after staring about for a moment, said: "This is Major Pond, I believe."

"Yes, sir. What can I do for you?" answered the major.

"I want to get a job on the platform," returned Nye.

"Ah—yes," said the major slowly. "Have you had experience?"

"Well, I've been before the public for a couple of years."

"Yes? May I ask in what capacity?"

"I've been with Barnum. Sat concealed in the bottom of a cabinet and exhibited my head as the largest ostrich egg in captivity."

Official Organ of both City and County.

The yellow fever has struck Laredo, Texas.

President Roosevelt is contemplating a trip to the south.

A fine blooded horse in New York has been sold for $40,000.

The extra session of congress begins on the 9th of November.

Mercer University at Macon opened last week with 110 new students.

Wouldn't Mr. Calvin, the author of the vagrant bill run a fast race for governor?

The cotton receipts of Americans are six thousand bales behind those of this time last year.

Mr. G. G. Evans of Wahoo, has a notion of making the race for ordinary of Lumpkin county.

Attorney General Hart announces that he is not, and will not be a candidate for governor.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the President of the Confederacy, is seriously ill at her home in Buffalo, N. Y.

The industrial edition of the Marietta Journal is before us, brim full of interesting news about that wide awake city.

One thousand miners struck at Barman, West Va., last week because a man was discharged for joining the union.

A negro was lynched down in Decatur county in less than six hours after he assaulted a little girl last Saturday.

An official report to the State Agricultural department shows that the Georgia cotton crop will be short 800,000 bales.

Mr. Shultz, a former graduate of the N. G. A. College, now teaching school in Nimbleshill district, may run for the legislature in Lumpkin.

The single bite of a mosquito has caused D. D. Moncrief, of Atlanta, to be confined to his bed for about two weeks, having bitten him on the leg, making a very ugly sore.

During the sickness of a lady school teacher in Chicago last week a negro was put in charge and all the white children refused to continue their studies until the woman of color was removed.

A duel occurred in the streets of Fitzgerald last week between Col. J. E. Mercer, editor of the Enterprise, and Thomas Luke, the latter being published as a vagrant. Neither party was hit and resulted in only the loss of a little powder and lead.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, the world's famous astronomer, preached at Macon, Ga., last Sunday at the Vivian Methodist church. His subject was "The Love of God." The object of his visit was to place his daughter in the Wesleyan Female College.

It is estimated at the State Department of Agriculture that Georgia's cotton crop this year will be 1,078,000 bales. This estimate is based upon the September reports. Last year the output was 1,470,000 bales, and this year the crop is estimated at 300,000 less.

The Confederate veterans of Georgia hold their annual reunion in the city of Augusta on November 10, 11, 12, next and the veterans of Augusta and the citizens generally are extending a very cordial welcome to the old battle-scarred heroes of the South and no doubt they will have a glorious time. The railroads will have round trip tickets on sale at the extremely low price of one cent per mile.

Production for Gold for 1902.

The Daily Record, published at Denver, Col., publishes the amount of gold produced in America last year, as given by the director of the mint, as follows:

Michigan	80,800
Montana	4,184,305
Nevada	3,514,212
New Mexico	1,688,400
North Carolina	91,783
Oregon	1,800,405
South Carolina	347,928
South Dakota	7,398,057
Alabama	2,873
Alaska	7,823,793
Arizona	4,155,099
California	17,124,941
Colorado	27,503,420
Georgia	102,888
Idaho	2,067,189
Maryland	2,953
Tennessee	145
Texas	600
Utah	3,720,030
Virginia	4,441
Washington	494,100
Wyoming	45,280

Totals	80,858,070
Klondike	14,500,101
None, included in
Alaska	5,023,256

It will be seen that Colorado stands far in the lead, but Georgia did well considering the severe drought here last year, besides taking into consideration that only four or five counties produced the amount given, mostly three, and Lumpkin is ahead. Colorado has twenty counties, where mining has been carried on to a great depth, while here in Georgia we might say that the ground has only been "scratched."

A Card From Prof. Stewart.

ATHENS, GA., Sept. 26, 1903.
EDITOR OF NUGGET:

I desire to say that so far from "doing all I can against the North Ga. Agricultural College" it has been my pleasure to speak of it as a part of the University system in almost every speech I have made since I severed my connection with the college and accepted the position of state agent of the University at Athens. It has received equal attention with the other parts of the system. In hundreds of occasions I have spoken in the highest terms of the new president and of the work done by the college. I have sent the president more names than I have any other branch institution. I have been most careful to reflect upon no college whether state or denominational, while presenting the claims of the institutions at Athens. It was a pleasure to work for the college when I was its president and it has never entered my thoughts to say or do ought to its detriment. I feel a pride in its success and am sure I was doing it, as well as the other kindred institutions, a help when I mentioned them to show how great and good a work the state was doing for the youth of the commonwealth. Forbear in mind my instructions read, "you have been elected agent of the University, using that word in the sense of the institution at Athens." Where a parent makes inquiry, after one of my speeches about any part of the system I take pleasure in giving him all the information he desires. The only new boys I met at Crawfordville, for instance, were two who expressed a desire for Tech. and a Mr. Luncford whom I advised to send his son to Dahlonega and put him in the dormitory with Prof. Barnes. I have spoken before many old students and I have never had one to express any thing but satisfaction at my presentation of the subject. Regardless of unkind criticism from Dahlonega I shall continue to plead the cause of all the institutions of our state with special reference to those courses taught at the parent institution, such as my feelings in the matter and such have been my actions. There is not a week passes that the college is not brought favorably to the attention of the people from the platform and through the press, and without any expense to the college. It has never been my creed or practice to build up by tearing down others nor have I varied from these views since I have been agent of the University.

Yours J. S. STEWART.

The number of criminal cases of the U. S. Court in Atlanta is about three hundred.

Hon. Harvie Jordan of Georgia, has been elected president of the Farmers National Congress.

In Pulaski county negro farmers have organized an institute and endorsed the vagrant law.

Marion Booth, a son of a minister at Dublin, Ga., is charged with crime, by giving a bank a forged check.

Miss Caroline Morgan of Harmony Grove, Ga., 72 years of age, is said to have broken her leg one night last week while turning over in bed.

Dr. H. H. Kemp, the Marietta physician charged with the murder of John D. Garrett, was last week found guilty of involuntary manslaughter and fined $350.

The Southern mail flyer was completely demolished near Danville, Va., Sunday afternoon, by jumping from a bridge 75 feet high, killing nine persons and in juring seven.

Jim McRoe of Cairo, Ga., was arrested last week for the kidnapping of the 10-year-old daughter of Joe Andrews and trying to marry her, who only weighs 50 pounds.

Last week in Talbot Superior court Alex Harris, col., was given a life sentence for killing John Mahone for five cents. Two other negroes who committed murder in county churches, were convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary.

On account of the small tax rate of many of the citizens of Atlanta it is likely that all her tax payers and the amounts they return will be given in the papers and in pamphlet form. This would be a good idea, not only of every city but of all the counties in Georgia.

The Wesleyan Advocate tells of a preacher who they had to dismiss because he was found on the streets drunk. The man had been drinking for twelve years and the Advocate complains because they didn't get rid of him earlier. Maybe they didn't want to expose him, just like the Advocate is by not giving his name and whereabouts.

The office of every member of the state school board commission is piled up with samples of books of every description, which are being examined. The other day a quotation from Abraham Lincoln was found in one of them concerning the south, which will cause it to be dropped sure, and all others published in the north carefully examined before any selection is made.

Clifton Branham, the wife murderer was hanged at Wise, Va., last week. Branham caused a sensation when he addressed four thousand people on the court house lawn at 1 p. m. He related the story of the killing of his wife, and requested that if any one in the crowd felt that he was not justified, he would look for that one to hold his hand up. Not a hand went up. Then he requested all who felt that they would have done as he did to hold up their hands. It is estimated that 500 hands went up immediately.

I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I had menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have swell up and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-send to me. I took a charge for five bottles within a week. After thirteen days treatment agonies usually felt and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Wine of Cardui cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases of irregular menses, bearing down pains or nervous weakness. ## Local News.

The wells are drying up again. Fodder pulling is about over in this section now.

Mr. King of Asheville, N. C., came in Monday, having an eye on the timber lands of this county.

We are authorized to state that Rev. J. J. Shed will preach at the Baptist church here next Sunday.

The New Union Baptist Association is now in session at Concord church, a few miles from Dahlonega.

You will see the first rounds of the tax collector published in this issue, beginning Oct. 12th at Davis' law ground.

We regret to learn that Capt. R. R. Asbury of White county, who has been sick for several weeks, is still confined to his bed.

Small hog pens are not allowed in Dahlonega until the first of November, at a time when it will be cool and no danger to the health of any one.

Don't forget to call on Anderson & Jones when in need of clothing. They propose to sell the best goods for the least money of any body in town.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle informs us that the cases for White county defendants to be tried at Athens have not been set yet and won't be for several days.

Anderson & Jones have a nice line of misses and ladies walking and dressed hats ready to wear. Prices ranging from 50 cents to $4.00 each. Big bargains for you.

We hope there is no one in Dahlonega who would be guilty of sending his job work off to be done before giving us a chance at it. Remember we are prepared to do all kinds of work upon short notice.

Mr. J. P. Moore of Dahlonega, who was painfully injured in a runaway at Gainesville last week, came home on Saturday and has remained pretty close ever since. The ugly wound in his head is giving him no pain nor trouble now but he is using extra precaution.

We are glad to learn that some of the public roads are being worked out and put in good shape within the past few days. It's best, for Judge Kinsey has been fined for a whole lot of road commissioners fifty dollars each. Which do you prefer? To have the roads worked or pay a fine like this?

Col. W. P. Price, president of the board of trustees, made his annual address to the students of the N. G. A. College last Tuesday, being full of interest from beginning to ending. For 32 successive years Col. Price has made his annual address before the students of this institution, relative to the relations they sustain to the college, state and government.

Col. and Mrs. R. H. Baker of Dahlonega, visited White county last Saturday, and while there heard Mrs. Jane Strickland preach a very interesting sermon at Pleasant Retreat church. Mrs. Strickland is a sister to Rev. J. N. Anslin of this county, and was the lady injured in the cyclone which struck White county early in the spring from which she has not yet recovered.

Mr. A. S. Whelchel, who is well known to nearly all our citizens, died at his home near New Bridge, in Hall county, last Saturday night at 11 o'clock, aged, 59. Mr. Whelchel's death was not a surprise, for he has been declining in health for about eighteen months. Formerly years Mr. Whelchel was a citizen of Lumpkin county and fell very near to many of our citizens on account of his kindness and hospitality. The deceased was a brave soldier in the civil war and was faithful to the call until he was forced to surrender and kept in prison until the war ended. His remains were interred at the cemetery at St. Paul on Tuesday, in the presence of a large number of people.

We are glad to note the presence of Judge Murray in our city again.

Col. Farrow closes his hotel at Porter Springs the 15th for the season.

The next reunion of the 52nd Georgia regiment will be held in Dahlonega.

Rev. James C. Higgins preached at the Baptist church here last Sunday at 11 o'clock.

The several gentlemen who went out squirrel hunting last Saturday morning didn't meet with any success.

Col. and Mrs. J. H. Moore returned to the city last Saturday to the delight of their many friends here.

Dahlonega has three markets now and you can hear the citizens mauling beef in every direction of mornings.

Gen. Hardin of Kentucky, was among the visitors who came in last Sunday. The General has mining interests here and visits us occasionally.

The students who are too light to handle the present guns, used at the college, are being supplied with wooden weapons. This gives all a chance to learn how to drill.

The intimation that the vagrant law would soon be enforced in Dahlonega by ex-Marshal Harbison thinned out the loafers here, who have either gone to work or stay at home.

Notice.—To all whose notes and accounts are due Anderson & Jones will please settle without further notice, as it is quite a lot of trouble to send statements to each separate one.

It won't do for a man to cast a joke at a lady and tell her that she is pretty every time without causing trouble. An old man in this county is now sued for $2,000 damages for doing this very thing.

In the list of donations last week two or three names were left out by an oversight of Marshal Harbison—James Phillips, one day's hauling, $1.50 and his son, Nathaniel put in half a day's work at 40 cents, and one day's work performed by Will Hensley should have been credited to Mr. Wash Jenkins.

By special arrangements with the publishers of the Constitution and Sunny South, we offer a year's subscription to the Nigger in addition to the weekly Constitution and Sunny South for only $2.00. Giving you all three of these papers and two guesses at the $10,000 Post Receipt Contest, particulars to be found on fourth page of this issue.

Not long ago a man in this county was offered $1,500 for his farm. He wouldn't take it because he didn't think it was enough, yet the tax books show that he returns this farm and everything else he possesses at only $600. This shows that Lumpkin county will have to have tax assessors, so as to make all persons share alike in taxation.

The burning of Attorney Hod's cow house last Friday afternoon caused the bucket brigade to turn out in full force. If you want to see the people of Dahlonega come out in large numbers and hustle, just give the alarm of fire. There was a lot of straw in the stable which caught while they were cleaning off the yard and burning some trash.

There is a mail line from Porter Springs to Walnut, Ga., via Gates, in this county, which was established not long ago, over which we have been trying to get our Niggers carried to Walnut on Saturdays without them having to go down to Gainesville, up to Lula and by Cleveland, but it seems that the one who has been attending to the mail up at Porter does not know where Walnut is at and sends the papers back. Even letters addressed to that place are returned, causing the postmaster here to have to send them by the long route.

Col. Sharp of Atlanta, is here looking after his mining interests.

We print college pupils' reports or any thing else used at such institutions.

Send your Baptist Minutes to the Nigger office if you wish them printed neat, cheap and quick.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McKee of Dougherty, Ga., were on a visit here last week to their relatives.

Hutcheson Bros., Freda, Ga., manufacture shingles of every description. Write or call on us. All orders promptly filled.

Miss Lizzie Chapman, who has been teaching down at Cuba, Ga., for some time, came up on a visit to relatives and friends last week.

Miss Emily of Florida, attending college here, had to return to her home this week on account of the sickness of her mother.

Everything a person possesses is taxed except chickens and other fowls and it looks like more would be raised to supply the demand. The price is good and no trouble to get rid of them.

Mr. J. E. McKee has purchased the Dr. Chapman property, down near Col. Price's, who will likely tear the old residence away and build a good substantial structure for his future home.

FOR RENT.—One store house 20x40, well fitted up for a store, with electric lights, on Clarksville street, being the stand recently occupied by E. E. Crisson, Terms cheap. Apply to W. P. Price, Jr.

Look at the date on your Nigger or label when your time expires renew at once so it will continue coming. It is too much trouble for us to notify all by letter, besides the time and expense it takes in sending them out.

In a short time an election will be held in Dahlonega for a Mayor and four aldermen. All the aldermen's terms expire except W. P. Price, Jr., and E. W. Strickland. For our part the present members, Mayor and all, will suit.

Rev. Mr. Blackwell informs us that Rev. J. T. Wade of Easley, S. C., has been appointed principal of the Presbyterian Institute in White, who has accepted and will begin the school in a short time. This is a preparatory school and will be a benefit to our college.

Only a few more weeks till the Superior court convenes here and our town will be full of bailiffs, both on foot and horseback. The regular elected bailiff generally has to walk and receives only one dollar a day, while the appointed ones take a part of his work away from him and receive twice as much.

Yesterday, Mr. J. V. Harbison, after nearly two years' continuous service, stepped down and out and now it is City Marshal Geo. W. Walker. Mr. Harbison retires with a clean record, having gotten everything pertaining to his office finished up as far as he is concerned. His official acts have been perfectly satisfactory to every one that can be pleased at all. Of course there are a few people who the Lord couldn't please, much less a city marshal, and would grumble at anything and everything because they are built that way and have to continue for fear their hearts might fail to beat.

As stated last week, sheriff Davis carried "Polly," the wild man to the lunatic asylum, who had been adjudged insane by a jury here some time ago. He had not eaten but very little since his imprisonment until told that he was going to be carried to the asylum. Then he commenced to eat regularly until he was landed, but didn't talk any. He would rise and get water on the train same as any one else. Our opinion is that he is guilty of some grave offense and knows exactly what he is doing all the time, but had rather die than be recognized. No doubt he is the only man in the asylum whose name is not known and no record of him whatever.

Fodder has been going at from $1.25 to $1.65 per hundred here this week.

Ex-City Marshal Harbison and family will move to Gainesville this week.

Mrs. Strickland has just received a lot of Zibolin dress patterns and waists.

A basket meeting takes the place of campmeeting at Yellow Creek next Sunday.

The work of the college is progressing nicely. The attendance is good and all the students have settled down to business.

The singing class is still being taught at Bethlehem church, and on next Sunday will sing for those attending the New Union Baptist Association at Concord church.

We are glad to see Rev. Taylor Dowdy able to be out again after having a cancer removed from his face by some one down at Stone Mountain, Ga., a few weeks ago.

Last week Mr. W. H. McAfee started to Atlanta and got so sick that he had to remain over in Gainesville until Tuesday of this week before he could resume his journey.

Prof. C. W. Davis of the chair of Agriculture in the N. G. A. College, made a trip across the Blue Ridge this week on foot for scientific purposes, accompanied by his class.

Mr. Thomas Parrish died out at Cavender's Creek last Tuesday of typhoid fever after being sick only about three weeks. His wife had been sick and just as she was getting able to be up her husband took the disease and gradually grew worse until he expired.

Elsewhere will be found a card of explanation from Prof. J. S. Stewart concerning the remarks he is charged with making against the N. G. A. College. The Professor says he hasn't said anything detrimental to this institution, nevertheless there are letters in the possession of Col. Charters and Prof. Vickery here from parties who have been in the towns he has visited, saying that he has.

The college paper, The Tablakenian, is to be revived again under new management and will appear some time during the month. Its new editors are: Editor in chief: W. T. Townsend, of the Decora; J. D. Gortatowsky, of the Phi Mu. Assistant editors: W. B. Lunsford, Decora; R. Byers, Phi Mu. Local editors: L. G. Fortson, Decora; A. E. Wilson, Phi Mu. Business manager: E. P. Patterson, Decora. Exchange editor: R. E. Smith, Phi Mu.

The following new suits have been filed in the clerk's office of Lumpkin Superior court—all complaints: T. J. Ripley vs. G. D. Bruce; P. E. Patterson vs. John L. Bryant; Geo. T. Corn vs. W. J. Burt, Adm'r John P. Corn; John A. Smith Mfg Co. vs. C. C. Thomas; Mary L. London vs. The Gainesville & Dahlonega Railway Co.; R. L. London vs. the same Co.; Nannie L. Hutcheson vs. Jno. W. Jones; J. F. Moore vs. J. W. Woodward; J. M. Smith & Bro. vs. The Elowah Gold Mining Co.

The following are the officers of the Phi Mu Society for the first year: R. Byers, president, R. E. Smith, vice-president, A. E. Wilson, secretary, J. F. Broach, treasurer, C. E. Williams, critic, and W. E. Broach, marshal. The Inter-Society committee consists of the following: Those from the Phi Mu, J. F. Broach, J. D. Gortatowsky and A. E. Wilson. Those from the Decora, W. P. Lunsford, E. P. Patterson and W. T. Townsend. The Phi Mu Society elected James F. Broach as anniversary for this year last Monday. The anniversary address is intended to be one of the main features of the society during the year, and the man whom the society has elected is expected to not only reflect credit upon himself, but also to reflect credit and ability on the society which he represents. This occasion will come off on the twenty second day of February, which is Washington's birth day.

Mining Notes.

The new company, recently purchasing the Rutherford gold mining property in this county, will be known as "The McAfee, Lind Mining Co."

The last news from Mr. Ainslie, president of the Consolidated Co., is to the effect that he is going to call a meeting of the directors, so as to know what to do.

Mr. H. D. Jaquish, after an absence of some days, returned to his mining property last week and will soon begin the erection of a ten stamp mill to start work with, and later on will add more stamps to it as necessary. This is said by those who know, to be valuable mineral property and good results may be expected.

The work on the Gorge power is being pushed as fast as men can do it. The machinery is now being hauled from Gainesville. It is hoped that all the heaviest parts of the machinery will be moved before the winter rains set in. The waters are all very low and it is probable work upon the Crown Mountain will not be resumed until the Gorge power is complete. All believe when full power is assured and the plant run to its full capacity that the mine will pay well.

The Jumbo Gold Mining Co. was organized last Monday. The following Board of Directors were elected: J. F. Moore, T. F. Jackson, A. G. Sharp, J. McN. Wright, J. B. Clements and W. J. Worley. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: J. F. Moore of Dahlonega, Ga., president and general manager; Judge Wilber P. Stone of Denver, Colo., vice-president, and T. F. Jackson, secretary and treasurer; J. B. Clements, assistant general manager in charge of all mining operations, and W. B. Fry, mining engineer. All these officials have much experience in mining and mining operations, and are thoroughly competent to carry to success fruition the parts assigned them. We all know Frank Moore and know what success he has had made of mining as well as everything else he has undertaken. Judge Stone, the vice-president, was one of the pioneers of the west—is now associate justice of private land claims, and a man of the highest character. Jackson is proven to be one of the best business men in the community. Joe Clements is the well known prospector and miner. Mr. Fry is a mining man of experience and a first-class mining engineer. With such officials success is assured. A more extended notice of this company, as well as the officials will appear next week.

The Jumbo Mining Company, which was organized last Monday, is now ready for business. The prospecting and development work which has been going on for several months, continue to furnish supplies in the large amount and richness of ore daily discovered. The assay of average ore from a number of veins show, taken as a whole, the richest large bodies of ore yet discovered in this section, indeed were the same discoveries made in the west, it would create a great sensation.

The following assays were made at Nashville, Tenn.: Denver, Colo., and this place, of the average ore. We are informed by the miners in charge, that ore can be selected which will run up in the thousands. Assays by Prof. Whorton of Nashville, Tenn.: Two foot vein, shaft No. 1, solid quartz, $9.00. Surface on top of the hill, $4.50. Three foot vein in tunnel, $18.00. Twelve inch vein on west side, $52.00. Eight foot vein, 20 feet from grass roots, $9.30. Shaft No. 2, 24 foot fissure vein, $17.00. Twelve foot vein, four feet from grass roots, $63.52. From Prof. Sanford of Denver, Colo., average ore of shaft No. 1, at a depth of 40 feet, $25.80. By Prof. Whorton Anderson, general manager of the Calhoun gold mine: Shaft No. 1, $64.40. Second sample Shaft No. 1, $77.20. Sulphurets, Shaft No. 1, $7.20.

Entertainment of Hill Top School.

The closing exercises of the public term of the above named school in Hightower district, was witnessed by a large number of the citizens and was pronounced "good."

Quite a nice program was gotten up. Among the pieces were the recitations of Master Arthur and Luther Gaddis, Queen Ferguson and Miss Bertie Gaddis. Miss Arvie Walden did well in her recitation of "The church revival of a School Girl." "The Egyptian debate between Frank Healan and Luther Walden and the rival speakers between the latter and Hub Gaddis was extra.

Another piece of interest, was the "Frog Hallow Lyeian," in which the right of woman's suffrage was debated, was of interest to the legal right to vote, and the part that Mrs. Nancy Gaddis played showed how a fellow would go through the dark and gloomy of the cap of his knee for the sake of courting his best girl.

"A courtship under difficulties," by J. B. Simmons and Miss Arvie Walden, was highly entertaining in as much as her brother, Mr. C. G. Walden passed as her cousin, and made it appear to both lovers that they were deaf.

The young man in presenting a floral offering to the lady, raised his voice to its highest key. Miss Walden laboring under the same delusion, used her lungs to good advantage, while the congregation were catching on to the courtship. Finally the lovers found they had been deceived and the visitors had heard them talking.

Moral: All sweethearts would do well never to be deceived in each other, nor let the old folks catch on.

The school is indebted to Glenn Rider and the Lingerfelt brothers for the music which made the occasion grand. The best of order prevailed and everybody went home feeling better. Prof. A. G. Davis made a few farewell remarks and the benediction was prayed by Prof. A. C. Sailer, after E. D. Gaddis and others sang "God be with you 'til we meet again."

This is the first entertainment this school has had and the interest taken in it by Mr. S. S. Gaddis, in furnishing material for the stage, demonstrates that the Board of Education should appoint him a trustee of Hill Top. While the part Mr. Simmons acted in trying to make the school and entertainment a success, shows he is keenly alive to the school's interest. His term as a member of the Board of Education, expires April 1904, and we say he should be reappointed.

Prof. Joe Davis has recently been admitted to the bar and will soon locate and commence to climb the legal ladder of fame. We wish him great success in his chosen profession and a happy life, and at last when this life is over and he is called to cross over Jordan, may he lie down calmly and serene and be received into Paradise, amid the rejoicings of the millions of the redeemed.

SPECTATOR.
Auraria Dots.

Capt. H. D. Jaquish was up from Gainesville a few days first of last week.

After a few weeks visit here with relatives, Roy, and Mrs. J. H. Bell, accompanied by their little niece, Miss Edith Bell, of this place, left for their home in Atlanta last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hutcheson, and their bright little daughter, Lela, were down from Freda last Sunday.

We heard Mr. J. N. Davis remark the other day, that he has some blades of fodder that are 5 feet long. Who can beat it?

There was a box supper down at Fairview school house last Friday night. About $4 dollars were raised, and got toward ceiling the house.

Hero Without Honor.

An anecdote about Gen. Miles concerns an innocent professional. It was in an up-town hotel, says the Philadelphia Ledger. A number of men were gathered around listening to the speaker, a slender and rather magnetic man.

"Yes," he was saying, "I was in the midst of it at Santiago!"

"Were the Spaniards good fighters?"

"Rather. But I took five of them unaided—officers, too—in Cuba, and two more in Porto Rico."

"May I ask you are?" inquired the general.

"Yes, indeed. I'm Mr. Clindest, the photographer, from Washington, and I took you, too, in Porto Rico."

Saved

From Death After Four Years

Of Nervous Prostration and Debility.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure Me Permanently.

Nervous prostration is the most serious of nervous disorders. It arises from some extra strain, which robs the nerves of strength, vitality and life. The patient usually loses self control, is subject to frightful headaches, fainting fits, melancholia and morbid tendencies. Too weak to drag the limbs, wasted body around, unable to get sleep or rest, life seems scarcely worth the living; the mind frequently broods until it becomes unbalanced and tragically overcast. Read what Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure did for Mrs. Grabbie.

"I was terribly afflicted with nervous trouble for nearly four years. I was so bad at times that I could not help myself, nor carry a chair across the room without giving out. One physician attended me for a year and a half without giving me any help whatever and I also doctored with two others without any good results. My father and others wished me to try Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure, which after lots of coaxing I did. I took six bottles of the Nerve and some of the Nerve and Liver Pills. I was completely cured of my trouble and I heartily recommend it to any woman who is suffering from a nervous disorder. I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for headache and neuralgia with best results. I believe firmly in the Nerve and Liver Pills and am fully convinced that Dr. Miles' Remedies saved my life."—Mrs. LATTIE GRABBIE, Roanoke, Va.

Thoroughly Incompetent.

"What's the charge?" the justice asked the officer who had brought in the object of the next item on the docket, says the Baltimore American.

"Vagrancy, yer honor."

"Are you homeless?" the justice asked the prisoner.

"Temporarily," was the reply.

"When did you work last?"

"Well, about a year ago I had a drug store, but—"

"And you couldn't make a living with a drug store?" exclaimed the justice, excitedly, leaning over the bar.

A Boomerang Sermon.

The little English vicar Hexton, whose objection to high church ritualism brought him recently into conflict with Bishop Potter in New York, sat one day in the cafe of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, says the Boston Post.

A group of reporters surrounded him. One of the reporters said:

"Why don't you try to drown ritualism, Mr. Fillingham, with sermons, rather than with violence?"

The vicar smiled. "Sermons," he said, "have an effect always, but too often this effect is the opposite one to what the sermonizer intended."

"How do you mean, sir?" the reporter asked.

"I'll illustrate to you what I mean," said the vicar. "I once had a parishioner who was a miser. For this man's benefit I preached one Sunday a strong sermon on the necessity of charity, or philanthropy—a sermon on the duty and the joy of giving. The miser, at whom I gazed often, seemed impressed."

"Next day I met him on the street."

"Well, John," I said, "what do you think of yesterday's sermon?"

"It moved me deeply, sir," he answered. "It brought home to turn beggar."

"Cloves," said a physician, "make an excellent and handy remedy for nausea, for the headache due to train rides and for slight attacks of seasickness. I went abroad last year, and on the boat the first day out I began to feel the approaches of seasickness. I took a clove every hour all the rest of the day, and by midnight the attack had left me, and it did not return again. My wife is much given to indigestion, particularly when she eats pastry, but experience has taught her that she may now eat pastry with impunity, provided that she swallows a clove now and then for several hours after the meal."

A Physician Healed, How Prescribes It Daily

Dr. Geo. F. Waring, a practicing physician at Smith's Grove, Ky., for over thirty years, writes his personal experience with FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE: "For years I have been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostate gland. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it now daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use to all physicians for such troubles, for I can honestly state I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success."

Had to Get Up Several Times Every Night

Mr. F. Arnold, Arnold, Ia., writes: "I was troubled with kidney disease about three years. I was nervous and all run down, and had to get up several times during the night, but three bottles of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE effected a complete cure. I feel better than I ever did and recommend it to my friends."

DR. E. W. WATKINS.

His Splendid Official Record
While in The Legislature.

ED. NUGGET:

I notice from the Nugget and other papers in the district that Dr. E. W. Watkins of Ellijay, is mentioned for representative in congress from the Ninth district in the next election.

It happens to be my privilege to have known Dr. Watkins personally for a number of years, and a more genial companionable or level headed man, is not to be found in the district. He is a man who has been successful in life from his own efforts, being an all round business man, who has made a success professionally, in business and as an agriculturist, being at this time one of the most extensive farmers in his section.

His record, as a state legislator, places him in the front rank of progressive men. He was the first man to introduce a bill in the Georgia legislature to elect Judges and Solicitors by the people, and kept agitating the subject until it became an accomplished fact. He also introduced the first bill in the Georgia legislature to place Solicitor Generals on a salary, and a bill is pending in the present legislature to this effect and will doubtless become a law.

Being a gallant Confederate soldier, and knowing their needs, he introduced a bill and advocates the same to pension all old Confederate soldiers.

A bill was introduced, and passed the house, taking off the rolls the names of all maimed soldiers and the widows of soldiers. This bill, No. 128, was so manifestly unfair that Dr. Watkins moved its reconsideration and after a most impassioned speech by him the bill was reconsidered and killed.

If it had not been for the hard work of 78 such noble patriots as Dr. Watkins in the legislature in 1885, the Railroad commission would be a thing of the past and the people of Georgia would today be struggling in the mighty grasp of the Railway trust.

I could enumerate a number of important bills in which he took a leading part in advocating, among which is our present "Local option law," which leaves to the people themselves the right to control the traffic in whiskey in their own section without interfering with others.

Our convicts were being leased out for a mere pittance of $11.00 per year and a bill was introduced making $100.00 the minimum price for able bodied convicts. This bill was ably championed by Dr. Watkins until it became a law, thereby putting in the states treasury $200,000.00 additional per annum.

These are but a few of the many good deeds which are already known of Dr. Watkins, and with such a fine past record I believe he would fill with equal wisdom and fidelity a place in the halls of our national Legislature.

The Democratic primary is the only chance we have in Georgia to make our public officials give an account of their stewardships and there is nothing like good healthy opposition to keep them straight.

Let us have contests for every office in Georgia from Balliff to Governor within the Democratic primary, for in this way only under the present conditions can we keep our politics clean and free from corruption.

SUBSCRIBER.

Parents always feel proud of their children's good traits—and wonder where they get their bad ones.

Handicapped for Lack of Education.

According to the recent census of Dahlonega more than one hundred children of school age within the corporate limits are not attending school, although there is an institution here with its doors thrown open to them free of charge.

Parents are doing wrong in keeping their children from school. Many men of wonderful endowments says success, are dwarfed and hampered in their life work because of their lack of education. How often do we see bright minds in responsible positions, serving on board of directors, as trustees of great business houses or backing institutions, men who control the affairs of great railroads or manufacturing, who have good judgement and great natural ability, but who are so stunted and cramped by their lack of early development that life does not yield to them one tenth of what it might had their intellectual aesthetic possibilities been unfolded in youth. In social life, on public platforms, in debate, in the higher fields of the work, enjoyment and progress they are constantly baffled, embarrassed and handicapped by the limitations of ignorance. Again, thousands of young men and women are working today in inferior positions because of their lack of mental culture. Conscious of dormant powers, which they cannot get control of, many of them fret and chafe under the restraints imposed upon them by their own ignorance. They are in the position of the Chinese and non progressive people, who have great mineral, agricultural and other natural resources which, however, do not yield them a hundredth part of their value because they do not know how to use them. In the very midst of potential wealth and vast possibilities these people live in poverty and degradation just as an uneducated man or woman, who has never developed his or her wealth, is doomed to perpetual ignorance and its consequences.

Hungry For Dog Meat.

Broiled, dog, fried dog and sundry other forms of dog are considered delicacies by the Igorrotes of the northern province of the Philippines, writes the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Chronicle.

According to the advices just received at Washington Colonel E. C. Carter, Manila commissioner of public health, has received a gentle hint from provincial Governor William G. Peck, at Baguio, Banguet, not to waste this "God given delicacy."

His appeal is couched in the following terms:

"I know that some of the departments under your charge are killing dogs and throwing them away to get rid of them. Now, my people, you know, consider dog a God given luxury. Will it not be possible in one way or another for you to send me 100, 200 or 500 dogs that you want to get rid of to San Fernando, where I will have Igorrotes waiting to bring them over the trail to me here in Baguio?"

The feast subsequent to such an event would make gods and men wonder. Now, see if we cannot make such an arrangement."

It is understood the request will be cheerfully complied with by Colonel Carter. Manila is full of stray dogs, and he would give something handsome to get rid of them. The natives and Europeans there don't seem to consider them gastronomic luxuries.

How We Get Our Time.

The following description of how the National Observatory at Washington determines the exact time, we take from an exchange:

The fixed stars have no motion that can be measured by any instruments known to science, and certain of these, known as "time stars" are made use of in ascertaining and recording correct time. Every clear night an astronomer, at the National Observatory in Washington, lies down on a mattress with his eye fixed to an instrument called a transit. This instrument points exactly north and south, and it is so set that it can be raised toward the zenith, or lowered toward the horizon, at the will of the observer. At the astronomer's side is a telegraph key, which connects by wire with an instrument composed of a slowly revolving cylinder, on which is wrapped a paper with evenly placed lines running each way. This instrument is also connected with the pendulum of the "time clock," and each beat of the pendulum is recorded on the revolving cylinder. In the eye-piece of the transit are five delicate lines made of spider webs, and, as the particular "time star" crosses each of these lines, the observer touches the telegraph key, and a little notch is recorded on the slowly revolving cylinder, which is recording the pendulum beats of the clock. Calculations are then made and the exact time is ascertained and the "time clock" set to that time.

Every day at three minutes and fifteen seconds to twelve, a switch is turned on at the observatory in Washington, and the beats of the pendulum of the "time clock" are sent over the telegraph wires all over the country. Every operator in the United States, when he hears the signal, stops all business and prepares to receive the correct time from Washington. These beats continue until ten seconds before twelve, when they stop. This is to give the operators notice that the next "tick" will be noon, and, when that comes, the time of the office clock, or operator's watch, is carefully noted and the difference between it and the Washington clock is adjusted. Some of the clocks are connected directly by wire with Washington, and are so arranged that, the instant the noon signal comes the hands will jump to twelve o'clock no matter what they may indicate at that instant.

The above process also describes the observations made at Washington University Observatory, St. Louis at certain times. The observatory in St. Louis for some years past has determined to exact time for the railroads in the Central Time Belt.

A trolley line is now talked of connecting Athens and Jefferson.

Texas has had another negro lynching. This time at Marshal.

The grand jury of Floyd county returned ten bills against vagrants last week.

It is said that gold bearing quartz have been discovered in Mississippi that will run $22 per ton.

Three children in Athens last week were poisoned by eating cabbage, candy and drinking butter milk.

The only candidate for clerk of the superior court of Lumpkin county we have heard of so far, is Rev. J. J. Shed.

Nearly $12,000,000 is added to the taxable property of Georgia through the franchise act, and it is believed the total will reach $17,000,000.

Three brothers, Willis, Fredrick and Burton Van Womer were electrocuted for the murder of their uncle at Danmore, N. Y., last week.

They commenced last week at Harmony Grove to enforce the Calvin vagrant law by binding over three young negro lads to the Superior court between the ages of 18 and 21.

Mr. W. G. McNelley has stepped down and out of the editorial chair of the Cherokee Advance and turned it over to Col. Ben F. Perry who sent it out last week looking as bright as a new silver dollar.

Fannie Price alias Smith, one of the most notorious women in Atlanta, was arrested last week and convicted for carrying on a wholesale stealing business. Over $700 worth of goods were found in her possession.

The Gainesville Eagle last week was printed by electrical power, and now all the presses in that office are hitched on to the lighting. This does away with the "negro power" which has been used in that office for years.

Two Mormon elders have brought a damage suit against a number of the citizen of Hart and Franklin counties, in the U. S. Court at Athens, claiming to have been whipped with switches on the night of September, 23, 1901.

On our first page will be found an interesting letter written by a "subscriber" in reference to Dr. Watkins of Ellijay, Ga., who has been frequently favorably spoken of for congress from this district by many friends. The Doctor made a fine record while representing his county in the Georgia legislature and no doubt would do likewise if elected to congress.

R. W. Walker, formerly of this place, is said to have an option on 110,000 acres of timber lands in Gilmer, Fannin, Pickens, Murray and other adjoining counties. He and Capt. Isabelle are in the employ of the United States Leather Co. of New York, and it is supposed the company is getting possession of the timber for tanning purposes. More than 5,000 acres have been acquired in Lumpkin county.—Cherokee Advance.

In Dawson county last week Ensley Feraby went squirrel hunting and did not come home at night. His wife, with the aid of her neighbors, made a search and found him dead some distance from his house with his face shot off. It is not known yet whether it was an accident, suicide or murder. He was a good citizen and enjoyed the esteem of every body. Mrs. Feraby says that she heard two gun shots in close succession but paid no attention to it. He had been in bad health for some weeks.

THE JUMBO GOLD MINE.

A Brief Sketch of its Officers and Directors.

As stated last week when the Jumbo Gold Mining Co. was organized with the following directors: Wilber F. Stone, J. F. Moore, A. G. Sharp, J. F. Jackson, J. McN. Wright, J. C. Clements and W. J. Worley, we would give a more extended notice of each this week.

J. F. Moore, the president and general manager, Wilber F. Stone, Associate Justice of United States court of private land claims Denver, Col., Vice-President, T. F. Jackson, secretary and treasurer, J. B. Clements, superintendent of mining and W. B. Fry, mining engineer.

All of these gentlemen are well known in this section except Judge Stone, and with them in charge it goes without saying that the company will have as efficient service as can be obtained in this or any other section. The president was born here and has had all "sorts" of experience from swinging a pick to managing large mining companies, and has been eminently successful in every thing he has undertaken, as an evidence of which is a comfortable fortune.

Joe Clements, the manager of the mines, was also born here. From a boy he has been engaged in mining and mining operations exclusively. If the "test of merit" is success he should be put down as one of the best miners in this country. By energy, and the happy faculty of knowing how and where to mine, has also accumulated a comfortable fortune.

Mr. Fry has made his home here for many years, except for a few years spent in the west where he was engaged in mining operations and for a part of the time was superintendent of the mining and timbering departments of the celebrated Homestake mine. He is familiar with everything connected with gold mining.

T. F. Jackson is also a native of this county, and while his position of secretary and treasurer, does not necessarily require all the technical knowledge of mining, he is in fact a practical miner, having had much experience as such, and can therefore always have an idea of the real necessities in operating mines, and his character for strict integrity, and his well known qualifications are an assurance that the books will be kept straight.

Judge Stone is from the great mining district of Colorado, though now one of the Associate Justices of U. S. court of Private Land Claims, was one of the pioneer miners of the district, and in early life had all the experience incident to the life of a miner of that elderhood of the west, and is a great acquisition to the company. He has now extensive interests in many operations of the west.

Of the directors Mr. McN. Wright is a resident of Huntington, Tenn., and is cashier of the bank at Huntington. By strict integrity and business tact and judgment has been very successful in all business ventures, and is recognized as one of the rising young men of his state and as such has a following second to none of his age in the state.

Col. A. G. Sharp, now a resident of this state, has much business in several states, and is recognized as one of the best business men of the country. His genial nature and always courteous bearing makes his presence felt wherever he goes.

Capt. W. J. Worley, though a veteran of the great civil war, is yet young when mining operations are discussed. He has had as every one knows, much and varied experience in all mining transactions, he has been "strictly straight," and in no case has integrity ever been questioned. He is one of the old time gentlemen yet with us. Altogether, the directors and officers of this company are men of known experience and ability, and will leave nothing in their power undone to advance the interest of the company.

Seven Dahlonega students came over the other day and took dinner at Gaddistown Hotel. Mr. James Dockery is talking of putting up an arbor for the students.—Gaddistown correspondent Union County Herald.

A man named Crawford was arrested in Denver, Col., last week, accused of stealing a mail pouch containing $500,000 worth of negotiable bank paper at Philadelphia. This is a big enough steal to secure him a good job.

Policeman Drasback was killed by a negro in Atlanta last Saturday while he was in the discharge of his duty, leaving a wife and three small children totally without relatives in that city. Subscriptions are being raised to lift a thousand dollar mortgage against their little home. The negro is still at large. This offer makes the seventh policeman killed in Atlanta.

It is a settled fact that Dr. E. W. Watkins of Gilmer county will be in the race for congress from the Ninth district in the next election. Come on gentlemen, the more the merrier, a change might benefit us. Let us have an open field and fair fight. Success to you Doctor.

It is reported here that, during the absence of Prof. Sharpe this week several of the boys at Young Harris, including two members of the senior class, accumulated a nice jag and painted things a beautiful bright red. Details are meager. The seniors will probably be given a "discharge" and the youngsters punished and allowed to remain. The entire trouble seems to have been caused by a mixture of wine and whiskey.—Union County Herald.

To run a newspaper all a fellow needs is to be able to write poems, discuss the tariff and money question, umpire a baseball game, report a wedding, saw wood, describe a fire so the readers will shed their wraps, make a dollar for the work of ten, shine at a dance, measure calico, abuse the liquor habit, test whiskey, subscribe to charity, go without meals, attack free silver, defend bi-metalism, sneer at snobbery, wear diamonds, invent advertisements, overlook scandal, praise babies, delight pumpkin raisers, minister to be afflicted, heal the disgruntled, fight to a finish, set type, mold opinions, sweep the office, speak at prayer meetings, stand in with everything and everybody.—Dalton Argus.

"I don't think we could keep homes without Thedford's Black-Draught. We have used it in the family for over twenty years with the best of results. I have not had a day since I have been in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.

is necessary in the home where Thedford's Black-Draught is kept. Families living in the country, miles from any physician, have been kept in health for years with this medicine as their only doctor. Thedford's Black-Draught cures biliousness, dyspepsia, colic, chills and fever, bad blood, headache, diarrhea, constipation, colic and almost every other ailment because the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys so nearly control the health.

At the New Union Association last Thursday up at Concord Rev. J. E. Blackburn was elected moderator and Rev. J. J. Shed clerk. The next session of the body will convene at Etowah church.

Some time ago the city council decided to purchase a lot of buckets to be used in case of fire. A few days ago they were used for the first time and three got misplaced out of ten that can't be found.

Milligan Nix of White county, was brought in before Com. Baker last Thursday night charged with blockading, but after an investigation was released for failure of securing sufficient proof to convict him.

We are glad to learn that Mr. N. W. Grant, a graduate of the N. G. A. College of Habersham county, has received an appointment as paymaster in the U. S. army and has recently stood the examination all right.

A gentleman of Nashville in requesting a friend here to renew his subscription, ends his letter in the following complimentary language: "I wish you would pay the newspaper man a dollar for the Nigger, for no well balanced person could afford to live without it." Thanks.

Up to the first of October 51 cases were disposed of by Mayor Baker of Dahlonega, and all the defendants either filed a plea or were found guilty, except two. The fines amounted to $155 besides the cost, which is four dollars in each case. In 1892 Mayor Baker only had 55 defendants before him.

During the past summer quite a nice little sum of money has been contributed to the triplets of Mr. John Hester residing in this county, by the guests at Porter Springs, with instructions that it be used to the best advantage. The money was sent to Mrs. B. R. Meaders, who has been busy for several days making up a pretty lot of clothing for the little motherless children and their other sisters who have to take care of them.

Dahlonega has four churches—three whites and one colored, two good hotels, many first class boarding houses, sixteen stores, one drug store, three markets, a public school for both black and whites and a college for the latter. Taking all these into consideration and the good water and fine climate it is no wonder that people like to live here. The worst thing we need is a railroad, and we hope the time is not long until we get that. We already have telephone communications with the outside world.

Nice thunder shower last night. The manufacture of syrup is the order of the day among the farmers now.

And still another lot of stationery just received. Drop in when you need any job work done.

Several of our citizens attended the basket meeting over at Yellow Creek camp ground last Sunday.

Last Sunday Rev. J. J. Shed interested a large congregation at the Baptist church by an excellent sermon.

About one-fourth of the teachers of public schools in Lumpkin county, have finished up and closed out.

There are always a few grumblers in every town, and of course Dahlonega has her share. They are of no benefit to themselves nor to one else.

Mr. W. J. Loveless of Dahlonega, who has been working in the gold mines at Essex, N. C., for several months, was severely hurt about three weeks ago by a stick of timber falling on him, but we are glad to state that he is able to be up now.

Our citizens will take notice that there is a change in the Gainesville and Dahlonega mail route via Auraria, which commenced first of this month. It departs at 8 with the permission to leave at 7 o'clock, and arrives at 6:30, about an hour later than usual.

At John H. Moores you can get beef as follows: Round steak 83 cents, tenderloin steak 83 cents, carolus steak 83 cents, chuck steak 73 cents, roast 6 to 8 cents, stew beef from 5 to 6 cents, whole hind quarter 6 cents, hind quarter trimmed 7 cents, fore quarter 5 cents.

Let every road commissioner in Lumpkin county do his duty without having to be forced to it. Should the grand jury return the commissioner, as is done in other counties, it will cost from $75 to $80 to serve them. Then should they be given longer time, this money comes out of the county. Such as this helps to swell taxes.

The government has allowed William Postell of this county, his pension again. It is $12 per month, and he draws from about two years back. This old man is growing quite feeble in his declining years and it will be a great help to him. When we broke the news to the old man last Sunday he shouted aloud for joy, and loved everybody.

It is said that Billie Green's mind has been unbalanced ever since he came so near losing his life in the Chetate river in this county some time ago by the boat capsizing while he was at work up at the Gorge, recently, growing so bad that a few days ago he picked up one of his children and threw it out at the window. Billie has always been a good harmless negro.

Mrs. Sarah Chester, a very old lady of Dahlonega, was found dead at her home last Saturday morning. The deceased was an aunt of Mr. Marion Chester, and lived in a little house by her self a few steps from Marion's house. The night before going to her room she complained of having a bad cold, otherwise apparently enjoying her usual good health. Saturday morning when breakfast was ready by Mrs. Marion Chester, one of her children was sent out to wake the old lady up, and she was found lying across a chair with her feet and head touching the floor, and from every appearance had expired in the early part of the night while preparing to retire. A foot tub was close to the chair where she had bathed her feet. A cup of ginger tea was found on the table near by which she intended drinking before retiring no doubt, and after going to the door and emptying the tub of water, expired after returning to her chair. Mrs. Chester was about 75 years of age and has been a resident of Lumpkin county nearly all her life. Her husband, Mr. Joseph Chester, passed away a few years ago.

Mr. John Shope died in Atlanta last Saturday at the age of 78. The deceased was the father-in-law of our friend Mr. John Honeley of Dahlonega. He was a Mason, Odd Fellow and a prominent citizen.

Too much whiskey caused John and Warren Sullins to fall out over in Shoal Creek district last Saturday, resulting in Warren shooting at John. The ball set his shirt a fire as it passed through the top of John's shoulder.

Mrs. Sarah Porter, who went on a visit to one of her sons over at Ducktown only a couple of weeks ago, died there and was brought back to this county for burial on Saturday last. Mrs. Porter was the mother of Mr. John and Ben Porter, who had many other relatives and friends here to mourn her loss.

Mr. R. M. Morgan of the Bell Telephone Co., has been in the city this week on business of importance to the people of Dahlonega and Dawsonville, who went on to that place and made arrangements with the council to run a telephone line in to Dawsonville from Dahlonega and in a short while we can say hello Dawsonville via Auraria.

Hereafter an article concerning farming will be furnished us each week by Prof. C. W. Davis, who fills the chair of agriculture of the N. G. A. College. Any one wishing any information in reference to the tilling of the soil can send their questions in and we will publish them one week and the answers will appear the next. Prof. Davis has much experience in farming and will be able to give you important information.

For some time past it has been known that Col. Price desired to retire from the Board of Education, owing to his continued ill health. Yesterday he placed in the hands of the board his resignation to take effect on the first of next January. This would have compelled the October grand jury to fill his place. The board, however, passed a resolution requesting Col. Price to defer his withdrawal from the board until the April term of the grand jury, which would give more time for the jury, as well as the people generally, to select a successor. We will endeavor to print Col. Price's letter next week, as well as the action of the board.

Mr. C. N. Clements and Mr. W. H. Wimpy have been appointed road commissioners of this district to fill the places of Mr. R. W. Walker and Mr. Logan Campbell, one having moved out of the county and the other into town.

The weather is fine for photographic work, and if you desire anything in this line visit the Dahlonega Portrait Gallery where you can get just as good work as can be obtained in Atlanta. A number of pretty scenes of mountains, mines, etc., for sale.

We understand that some bad conduct occurred up at Concord church out in the country last Friday night and Sunday during services by persons drinking, which will likely be brought to the attention of the grand jury when court convenes by some of those who were disturbed. Persons wishing to drink liquor should stay away from about the churches where meeting is being held.

Last Sunday Mr. W. W. Crisson and Henry Elrod, col., fell out something about a dog, causing the former to use his fist on the latter and then cast a stone at him, missing his aim which went into one end of Capt. W. J. Woodward's porch where a crowd stood, and passed out at the other without hurting any one. Crisson entered a plea of guilty and was fined one dollar and cost by Mayor Baker, and Elrod made leg bail by turning the bottoms of his feet to Dahlonega and seeking another clime.

We learn that some white boys acted very badly out at the negro Methodist church Sunday night while services were being held there, violating both the city and state laws. After preaching was concluded the colored people began to sing. These fellows contributed very liberally when solicitations for money were made, causing them to think likely that the negroes would do as they commanded. They wanted more music and at last one wanted to hear Jesse James, saying that he would give a dollar if they would sing his favorite song. A negro man told us Monday that he heard one of their curse in church. This is outrageous and should receive the attention of the city and state authorities both. We do not know the parties, but it makes no difference to us who it is, they ought to behave themselves. Suppose that a lot of negroes would go to the white church and misbehave, where would they land, and what would be the result?

Mining Notes.

A mill has already been purchased for the Jumbo and will soon be on the ground ready to be put up.

A number of teamsters have been engaged for several days in hauling the machinery for the Gorge plant.

If you wish to keep posted about the mines here and things going on in the mountains, send a dollar for a year's subscription to this paper.

Mr. William Campbell is keeping the Singleton mine running steadily and by doing this is making it pay.

Lot 800, which was sold for division here last Tuesday at public outcry, was purchased by the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co., for $501.

The two gentlemen of Macon, Ga., interested in the Summerour mining property have commenced active work by putting in a pump and will soon begin the erection of a stamp mill.

The members of the Briar Patch company, known as the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co., are expected down shortly to resume work in completing the canal, building dredge boats, etc.

The lessees of the Lockhart mine keep moving right along with good results. The clean up last Saturday proved to those who saw the gold, that the Lockhart is valuable property.

Mr. Fate Johnson has struck it rich down at the Ivey mine so we understand. The vein is about a foot thick, full of gold and very valuable and the richest vein that has been discovered since the Findlay was struck a few years ago. The gold in the rock is enough to excite even old miners.

We are all anxious to see the Crown Mountain Gold Mining Co. resume operations again. The weather has been fine for the work at the Gorge, and if it continues favorable it will not be very long before the dam is completed and the power ready to move the machinery of the company's plant.

This mine is bound to pay with proper management when plenty of power can be obtained to keep the mill moving. Matters not how valuable a gold mine is, the metal cannot be procured unless the mill is kept running regularly. When the Gorge is completed this can be done at all seasons.

The new company recently purchasing the Rutherford property in this county, has been organized and gone to work in earnest. It is known as the McAfee-Lind Gold Mining Co., with the following officers: President, Dr. W. W. McAfee, of Atlanta; Vice-president, Henry Schandine, Philadelphia; Secretary and Treasurer, M. P. Lind, Philadelphia; General manager, W. H. McAfee, formerly of Dahlonega but now of Atlanta. The manager went down last Monday and started as many hands as can be used profitably, in the preparatory work of building a dam and such other things as is necessary to get it in shape for a stamp mill.

The manager has spent all of his life in Lumpkin county, successfully mined for many years and knows exactly what he is doing, and in no distant day will have the mill running if the weather is favorable.

The Jumbo Gold Mining Company, which was organized here a few days ago is creating much interest on account of the vast quantity of valuable ore already discovered on its property. The mine was discovered and prospected by a native Georgia and sold to Judge Murray, who by the way is a native Georgian, having been born in this state. The Judge, before making any purchase in this section, made a careful study of the entire gold field, and the fortunate selections of such properties shows his judgment on this gold lead to be almost unerring. His faith in Jumbo has never wavered, and after several years of persistent prospecting, has verified all his predictions, and demonstrated the Jumbo to be one of the phenomenal gold mines of the country. Though the Judge has conveyed the property to the company, he will have a large interest in the property and its management. The officers and directors of the company combine the very best Georgia talent with that of the best modern methods of mining, the native Georgian, familiar with the gold leads of the section from actual observation and experience, have great advantages over those who have theories derived from books and the geological conditions of other and totally different sections of the country. They know where and how to mine, and what material will pay and what will not, and know to a cent what it costs to mine and mill ore. Add to this the best experience of the west in modern machinery and methods which the company has in one of its officials, Mr. Fry, who has had more than ordinary experience in the west. Having at one time been the superintendent of the famous Homestake mine. So far in life all the officials connected with the company have been successful in all their mining undertakings, and we bespeak for them the same success in this, their last, but greatest venture.

Why Go Off to Trade?

Last week a Dahlonega firm sold a nice bill of notions and some dry goods to a party living in one of Atlanta's suburbs, an intelligent woman who knows a bargain when she sees it. She said the same things in Atlanta would cost more. The same firm has just received an order for a nice bill of stuff to be shipped to Toccoa, Ga. Right often they fill mail orders for people who, after leaving here and pricing goods in other towns, pay postage on freight and then save money by remembering the prices of B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Bully Patent Lock.

A Philadelphia traveling man was on a business trip through Alabama, and one night found himself stranded in a wretched little town with only one slipshod, miserable hotel, says the Philadelphia Ledger. His "room" for the night was the end of a hall, with a sheet hung up to screen him from view.

In the middle of the night he woke up with his head hanging out over one end of his cot and his feet over the other, while a violent draught was blowing the hanging sheet in all directions. He called to the housekeeper.

"What do you want with the housekeeper?" came a voice from somewhere in the darkness.

"I want a paper of pins to lock my door with."

Excess

Of Smoking Affected My Heart

So I Had To Sit Up To Breathe.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

"There is nothing that has a more deleterious effect upon the delicate heart nerves than the excessive use of tobacco. Pain and tenderness around the heart, an oppressive feeling in the chest, choking sensation in the throat, disquiet from sleep, a weak heart, a feeble and smothering pulse at night when the sufferer has to sit up in bed to breathe are the most common symptoms of a weak heart. Smokers who feel these symptoms and who do not understand their meaning should be warned. In time, by the following experience: "I was greatly troubled with an affection of the heart, due I think to excessive smoking. On writing to you for advice I was directed to begin a course of treatment, which included Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Dr. Miles' Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills, together with bathing, etc. I faithfully followed the directions given and am pleased to say that my cure is complete and permanent. Before beginning the use of your remedies I was so nervous I could not keep my hands around the heart. Many times at night I would be forced to sit up, sitting, trying to get my breath, and for the time being it would seem as though my heart had stopped beating. From the splendid results achieved in my case I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Restorative Nervine and other remedies to all sufferers from heart or nervous troubles." Yours truly, ELLIAR HALL, Dothan, Ala.

All druggists sell and guarantee first bottle. Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

THE EDITOR'S INNING.

What Happened to The Man
Who Got Mad With The Paper.

The Enid (Okla.) Events describes the troubles and powers of a country editor in the following story: "A business man in Oklahoma got mad at the editor of a local paper about something that appeared in the future have his printing done at the job office, where they didn't have a paper to roast everybody. He thought, of course, the paper would have to quit business, but it kept on going.

"In about two months the man's daughter was married, and they had a big blowout, but not a line appeared in the paper. Later his wife gave a big reception to some visitors, but not a line of it appeared in the paper. The next fall a mass meeting was held in town to see about some public improvements, and this business man made a big speech. The meeting was written up in full, except this man's speech. It was skipped.

"Then the business man called and asked the editor what he had in for him about. 'Oh nothing at all,' replied the editor. 'You got mad last year; if you remember, and said you were going to have your job printing done at the job office, so I thought I'd just let the printer print an account of your daughter's wedding, your wife's reception, your child's obituary and your speech.'"

Danced With Cowboys.

An incident of the trip of Washington newspaper men through the west was a dance given in their honor by the cowboys of Hugo, Colo. The following vivid picture of the social event is given by a correspondent of the Washington Star:

"After supper the company went to the schoolhouse, where the cowboy dance was held. The cowboys, in full plains regalia, led the dancing. Some had leather breeches, or 'chaps,' as they are called, some wore the shaggy buffalo chaps of the olden days; all had high heel boots and wore their spurs in the hall room. Quite a number carried their six shooters in their belts. They swung the prairie girls around with gusto, occasionally breaking away from their partners to execute a double shuffle on their own account, winding up with an ear splitting yell.

"The Washington correspondents who wanted to dance were provided with partners, and quite a number went through the mazes of the square dances as best they could to the queer calling off of the figures. Very odd and sometimes startling were the figures announced by the caller, and the tender feet could only let their partners lead them. Each square dance concluded with the injunction to—

"Lead your girl you know where, Lead her to the rocking chair."

"This social event passed off without anybody getting shot, and the visitors wended their way back to the train, where the journey to Denver was commenced."

The Exposition Company of St. Louis having accomplished the expenditure of its $10,000,000 good faith fund, the government appropriation of $5,000,000 now becomes available.

Agricultural Education in The South.

The time is fast approaching when agriculture will be taught in all of our public schools. All who have given thought to this subject admit that there is a pressing need of agricultural instruction in the public schools. The majority of the population in the southern states is engaged in agricultural pursuits, and comparatively few students from the rural districts find their way to college. The census of 1900 shows the total population of the southern states to be about 28,000,000—the rural population being 17,000,000 or about 75 per cent of the population of the south. The number of agricultural students enrolled in the land-grant colleges of the south during the session of 1898 and '99 was 1,777 or about .0001 per cent of the agricultural population. The number of persons outside of these colleges receiving agricultural instruction is so small as not to affect the result, so it is safe to say that not more than one person in 10,000 of the agricultural population receive any schooling whatever in agriculture. So, we have the amazing spectacle of a country, the majority of whose people are engaged in agriculture, and spending for the support of their schools and colleges about $85,000,000, annually and yet giving instruction in agriculture to only one person in every 10,000 of the agricultural population.

There has been many difficulties in the way of the work of agricultural education. Want of appreciation on the part of the general public, and proper respect for this profession has caused many young men entering college to avoid an agricultural course, hence the scarcity of thoroughly trained teachers.

We have our agricultural colleges for the training of a few special students in agriculture, but very few of these engage in farming, as they are in almost every case employed as teachers or as directors of experiment stations. We have our farmers' institute for the benefit of matured men, but what are we doing for the great mass of the people who are growing up? Shall our young men enter the profession of farming with no knowledge of agriculture except as they gain it by experience? For instance, what would we think of a system of education in the medical profession in which we should say to the young men, "You are free to go into the practice of medicine, to cure diseases, to set limbs, if you can; and after you have reached years of maturity, then we will gather you together into medical institutes, then we will begin to discuss ways and means for the improvement of your profession?" This would be entirely irrational in our educational methods if applied to medical or theological schools, yet this is the position we have taken until lately in regard to the education of our agricultural community. We have said, "Wait until you have earned a good deal by hard, practical experience. Wait until you have become men and women, and then we will begin the farmers' institute series to give you the benefit of the application of science to your line of business."

If it would be considered irrational to leave work of this kind until years of maturity in case of professional men, why would not the same proceeding be irrational in the case of the agriculturist? Then it seems that the only solution to this question is to have agriculture introduced into the public schools. Many objections will arise. Some will say that practical agriculture can not be taught in the schools, that we can not teach the boy how to plow the land, raise crops, how to care for stock, &c. To this objection we might explain that our agricultural colleges were designed to teach scientific agriculture and that the only place where the practice of agriculture can be safely taught is on the farm.

If the science of agriculture is taught in our colleges, surely a certain amount can be taught in our rural schools also.

Another objection is, that agriculture is a dull and uninteresting study. The whole field of educational subjects from one end of the curriculum to the other, there is no subject so full of life, so full of interest or so attractive as agricultural science, particularly when handled by a man or a woman who understands the subject thoroughly.

The next objection comes as a sort of rider to the objection just stated. Many may say that agriculture is very interesting after all, but it is not an educational subject. Why is it not an educational subject? It has been reduced to a scientific basis and it lies at the basis of a great many of our various scientific subjects. The man who completes his college course and makes agriculture a specialty often has a broader education than one who specializes in Botany, Chemistry, Mathematics or the languages. To be an expert in his line, he must have a good knowledge of Botany, Zoology, Chemistry, Entomology, Mathematics, Geology and Bacteriology.

A demijohn of whiskey and another of gin, both of the best brands, have been put in his tomb at Putnam, Conn., by Phineas C. The old fellow must be a dear lover of the juice.

The political pot in the Ninth district is beginning to boil and we may look for hot times before the date of the next nominating convention. We learn from good authority that Dr. E. W. Watkins was at Blairsville court last week and made the positive statement that he is in the race for congress and would so announce to the people in a few days. He proposes to make his race, based on his record in the Georgia legislature, and the live issues of the day. He wants to meet the people face to face and tell them why he should receive their support.

You who have been spending your money from home should study what the Savannah News says about it, as follows: The money that you spend away from home "never comes back any more." Do men think of this? Take you, for instance. Have you ever bought an article away from home because it was a few cents cheaper than you could get at home that you did not feel that you were retarding the growth of your town by injuring the business? It saves little, if anything, to send your orders away, or to buy your supplies away from home. Such a system indirectly hurts you no matter who you are? And it works direct harm to your fellow citizens, who have taxes to pay, rent to pay, employees to pay and other charges to meet.

What Lumpkin County's Power is Doing.

Last Sunday's Atlanta Constitution contains the following descriptive report of what a dam across the Chestatee river in Lumpkin county is accomplishing: "The power now used in the city of Gainesville comes from the dam on the Chestatee river, 15 miles northwest of the city. This dam is no little one itself. It is owned by the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway Company and furnishes 1,200 horsepower, this company being a twin companion of the North Ga. Electric Company, General Warner being at the head of both. The Chestatee dam, is 200 feet long and 27 feet high. The power is brought to the city on heavy copper wires strong along the right of way of the old Gainesville and Dahlonega railway, an enterprise which ex-Governor Chandler headed, and over which road trains at one time run from Gainesville to a point beyond the Chattahoochee river. The old roadbed has been reworked by the new company and it is the intention to have cars running over this line in another year to Dahlonega. The road is graded as far toward Dahlonega as the Chestatee dam and power house, leaving only 8 more miles of grading necessary. The Chestatee dam cost $100,000, and was completed more than a year ago.

These few facts tell concisely the story of what has been the greatest development in the history of the Queen City of the Mountains. Since the installation of the lightning and power system and the building of the electric street railway, property has advanced to what it is worth, new manufacturing enterprises have come in and the $500,000 invested in the development of these powers means more for Gainesville than anything else it has ever known.

The building of the line to Dahlonega through Hall and Lumpkin counties will develop a section that has long felt the need of a railroad. The finest forests of hard woods are found along the line in the greatest abundance, and these will be given a market heretofore barred to them for lack of shipping facilities. Also the great gold belt in and around Dahlonega and the mica mines will be developed upon a more extensive plan and made to yield larger returns to their owners. The raising of sheep, goats, cattle and chickens will receive an impetus by the building of this road to Dahlonega, as all these can be profitably raised in this section. The chicken market of Gainesville is now the biggest in the world, amounting, as it does, to $500,000 a year, and the building of the railroad to the mountains will make it a better one because of the shipping facilities afforded."

Women, negroes especially, won't do for engineers. The other day at Fovilla a man and his wife were riding together in a buggy, pulled by a mule. The speed was not fast enough for the woman and she reached out and twisted the mule's tail. The result was both were killed in the runaway.

Sam Johnson, the negro preacher down at Crawfordsville convicted of robbing the Miss Battle, was given fifteen years. As soon as the sentence was passed he tried to make his escape by leaping through a window but was caught by the time he struck the ground. Had he been killed where would he have gone? To the devil.

Chicago capitalists have been consulting Mayor Howell of Atlanta about building an electric line from Atlanta to Dawsonville. The indications are that it will be carried through.

New York was visited by one of the greatest rain storms last Friday ever experienced. The damages amounted to thousands of dollars.

Some of the police force of Atlanta have recently been behaving badly, resulting in two of them being suspended from 30 to 60 days.

It is reported that two boys, sons of J. C. Causey, in Crawford county, was badly wounded recently by the discharge of an old shotgun which they were trying to clean. One of the boys was 12 and the other about 11. One of the boys had his leg shot to pieces and the other had an arm mangled. The trouble was that the old caps had rusted and it was not known that the gun was loaded.

A gentleman who had been over at Mr. Grant Woody's for several days, was telling us last Saturday about a little girl of Mr. Abercrombie getting lost in the mountains a few days previous. This little girl and several other children had gone out in search of chestnuts in the afternoon. They got scattered about, but all returned home before night except this little girl. Dark came on and the child still was absent, causing much alarm. Very soon many people were out in search of the lost one, and after traveling for hours in every direction, found the lost child on top of the Big Cedar Mountain about ten o'clock, three miles from home.

On the 20th of September Hon. G. D. Bruce of this county sent $25 to the Sellers Tent and Awning Co., Columbus, O., but has not received the tent or heard from it in any way, although he has written two or three letters, except that the money order was paid off by the postmaster at that place, and Mr. Bruce has come to the conclusion that the firm is a swindle. Whether he will be able to secure his money is yet to be seen.

Last Saturday Jeff Ward was arrested by Marshal Walker and carried before Mayor Baker, who fined the defendant one and cost or in default of payment, 30 days on the streets for disorderly conduct. The windy weather is causing the members of the city council to get to thinking how dangerous it is going to be about fire this winter unless they put a night watch on. Some of them speak of favoring raising the marshal's salary and letting him go on duty at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and remain until 2 in the morning. The marshal lives handy enough for him to be sent for at any time he is needed while not out. This would be a much cheaper plan than was adopted last year and would suit better all around, we believe. A watchman is needed and we hope that some arrangements will be made right away for one.

Mr. Frank Meaders of Dahlonega, will move to Gainesville.

Fodder brought from $1.25 to $1.50 here last week. Owing to size of bundles.

In another column we give three late United States pension acts which may prove of interest to some one.

Every negro who could get any conveyance at all last Sunday went down to Pigeon Roost to see some of their color baptized.

Col. Jones, president of the Cavender's Creek Gold Mining Co., was in the city last Saturday, together with his wife and a lady relative and Mr. Wild.

Those who neglected to pay their city taxes before the time was up have doubtless by this time found that they would have saved money by attending to it at the proper time.

Dr. Palmour, the well known dentist of Dawson county, after being in Dahlonega for more than three weeks, left for his home last Sunday. The Doctor only expected to be here ten days but his reputation as a first-class dentist always causes him to be crowded with work, causing him to be compelled to extend his time nearly every visit he makes us.

The following compliment comes from Mr. John A. Smith, of the firm of John A. Smith & Co. of Gainesville, Ga., which is greatly appreciated: "I received a copy of your paper through mail today. I want to congratulate you and your town and county on having so good a paper. No community can flourish without a good paper. You are certainly filling the want. Send me a copy one year and find check $1.00 for same."

Several defendant of this county were up before Judge Newman last week in Atlanta, charged with illegal handling of liquor in one way or another. "Shotgun" Walker, Jap Grizzle and A. T. Walden came back, but Marshal Grizzle told us that some six or eight others went to jail, as follows: Geo. Corn, 6 months; Long John Anderson, 3; H. Anderson, 1; Jim Stewart, 1. If there were others he couldn't remember the names. The long termed defendants were also fined one hundred dollars each, which is generally settled by an extra month's imprisonment where defendants own nothing. Later, —Long John Anderson got out by paying $125.

Last Saturday was the day fixed by the Cavender's Creek Gold Mining Co. to meet and have the damages to the Pyrites Co. settled by an arbitration, but the latter company didn't propose to do this and stopped the proceedings by enjoining the Cavender's Creek Co. and now the matter cannot be settled before April term of Lumpkin Superior court, and the Cavender's Creek Co. cannot operate its gold mine until a settlement is had in some way so it can secure sufficient water. The water it is after comes from the creeks above the Pyrites Company's mine and the Pyrite company refuses to let the other company have it, is why the trouble arose.

By last Saturday's mail we received a three pound tin containing something. We had not the least idea of what it was, and at first thought it might be an "infernal machine," but after hesitating for a few minutes we raised the lid and found a large nice, sound apple. We reached for our letters and found one from our old friend, Mr. W. A. Wheelchel, of Jack's post office, Okla., which explained the contents of the tin can as follows: "Will Townsend, Esq.: As I am sending a sample of Oklahoma apples to Georgia, I will send one to the NUGGER. Fruit is fine here. This is my third crop. I have had plenty of fine peaches for five years. This kind remembrance of one so far away is certainly appreciated.

Come right this way when you need any job work.

Mr. H. D. Gurley is having a painter to touch up his store house which is giving it a nice appearance.

Mr. Ed Batt and his sister, Miss Lela, both of Blairsville have been on a visit to relatives here this week.

Julius Roberts was fined one dollar and cost by Mayor Baker last week for disorderly conduct, occurring some time ago.

That big hearted, clever gentleman, Mr. Swain, the court stenographer was in the city last week for the first time in quite awhile.

After a three day's trial in the U. S. Court John Chatten was convicted yesterday of breaking into Wier postoffice in this county, and will be sentenced today.

Court convenes here next Monday and will likely consume the week. As far as known now the Long murder case will be tried which will take up a day or so.

Mr. W. R. Crissom, who helped to clear off the ground where Dahlonega is located is still alive and enjoying very good health and gets about pretty well for a man of his age—80.

Capt. J. W. Woodward returned from Gainesville last week, where he had been to see his sick mother, and reports that Mrs. Woodward is much better, which will be good news to her many friends here.

The stockholders of the Gainesville and Dahlonega railroad will have a meeting next Tuesday. What the object of the meeting is we have not learned, but hope something will be done that will be interesting and beneficial to us all, in the way of resuming work on this line again.

We understand that the road hands have been busy in various parts of the county and by next week they may all be in good fix, we hope so at least. The roads should be worked when they need it, but it is a rare thing in this county for them to receive any attention until just before court.

The other morning we found an illustrated love letter on one of the streets. It was written from the Glades in Hall county, and contained nothing but sweetness, and pictures of various sorts, and different kinds of "dildoes" from first to last. If people would be half so loving after the wedding as before, there would be nothing but happiness from one end of the world to the other.

Over in Tennessee, on the railroad the other day, a white boss was removed from some cause and a negro man put in his place. All the white men refused to work and left the place, among them was Ned Moose of Dahlonega, the only Georgian at that camp. The others were all from North Carolina who preferred going home and raising tobacco rather than to work under a negro.

A very interesting letter will be found on our first page this week from the pen of Prof. Davis, of the N. G. A. College, in reference to agricultural pursuits. You will hear from him every week in regard to this subject, and if you desire any information on this line, matters not where you reside, just send us the questions and the Professor will answer them with pleasure as we stated last week.

Frost here for several mornings past.

The subject for the full term debate by the Phi Mu Society is, resolved: "That virtue is its own reward." It is expected to be of much interest to all. Everybody invited.

As the game law has been violated by some of the leading citizens of Dahlonega during the past year, we publish the new law elsewhere so all may know hereafter.

Mr. Robert Scales of Brentwood, Tenn., paid our city his first visit last week. The gentleman is now a regular subscriber to the NUGGER and will be kept posted about Dahlonega heretofore.

A few years ago we asked a certain person to subscribe for the NUGGER. He said that he never read newspapers. After that he lost a relative and sent us an obituary with the request that we publish it. Did we do it, you say?

The Tablonekan, the college paper, will be out soon. It is being printed by Mr. J. A. Howard this time. It has a new set of editors and no doubt will be an interesting paper. We wish them all much success in their new field of work.

There is one colored man residing in Dahlonega who deserves special mention for his good conduct—that is Billie Riley. He was born and raised here and never had a law suit of any kind in his life. A strict member of the Baptist church, who comes as near living up to its rules as any man we know of, either white or black. None of his boys ever drink or swear and have never given him any trouble whatever. Last week one of his sons returned to the Baptist college in Atlanta and his girl went to the Shellman Seminary, same city.

Last Tuesday Harris Postell was arrested by Constable Carroll, assisted by Lafayette Carder, on a warrant sworn out by Henry Roberts, charging him with stealing his gold ore from where he was mining on a lot of Judge Murray's, adjoining the property of the Lumpkin Mining Co. After a hearing before Squire W. J. Worley, Harris was sent to jail in default of a hundred dollar bond to await a hearing in the Superior court. The ore was taken away during the night at different times, and claimed by Roberts to be hid out until it was hauled to the Lumpkin mill recently by Postell for crushing. Postell claims that he took this ore out at a different place, believing it to be on a lot of Capt. Ingersoll's. The ore is said to be just the same as Roberts'. Later, —Mr. Roberts and Constable Carroll found yesterday where Postell had carried and hid the ore until he went to it with a wagon and hauled it to the mill.

The Union county grand jury at its last session dispensed with the services of a finance committee. Lumpkin's should do likewise. A committee at the expiration of the county officers terms every two years is sufficient, in addition to what the grand jury can do at each term of court. This committee costs from 40 to 50 dollars extra every year. There was another thing the Union county grand jury did which we approve of, and that was the reduction of the riding bailiff's to $1.50 per day. As a general thing the mounted bailiffs in our county are not bonded officers, yet at the same time they get the biggest money. The ordinary's books here show that one of the appointed mounted bailiffs has made a large amount of money out of the county by being on hand at each term of the court for years, getting from ten to twelve dollars each time. In four terms of court his orders for bailiffs duty amount to $40.50 —$12.00 at the last term of court when the session was less than a week. Getting more than any juror. Taking from the bonded bailiffs what justly belongs to them. It is not right and should be stopped.

Mining Notes.

Dock Ervin has been milling some good ore this week taken from a lot beyond the colored Baptist church.

Mr. H. D. Jaquish was expected up to his mine, near Auraria, yesterday for the purpose of beginning operations on the same on quite an extensive scale.

Griffin, Sparks and Johnson are now putting in a lift on the Standard property below the Singleton to work a locality that is said to contain much of the valuable metal.

Whitmore, Riley and Stevens are now at work on the Standard property, doing profitable work. In a week the three made 89 pennyweights and 18 grains. They are all practical native miners and understand the "lick it is done with."

Successful operations still continue down at the Barlow Mine under the supervision of Mr. Tregent. Good clean ups are being made all the time. In two days recently, four men made at one place 150 pennyweights in two days, which gives you some idea of the value of the ore.

They have had fine weather ever since commencing to transfer the Gorge machinery from Gainesville to the dam and will have it all in this week, practically speaking, if the weather continues favorable. The work on the dam is progressing nicely. About fifty hands are employed pushing the work as fast as possible.

The report reached here last week that work had been suspended at the Pyrites Mine, but it is all a mistake. Everything is moving along out there as usual. Who ever started this report thought likely that Mr. Scott's death would cause work to suspend, as he was a large stockholder in this valuable property.

Mr. Wharton Anderson of the Calhoun, was in the city last Sunday and informed us that this celebrated mine still keeps up its good record. The last clean up was made a few days ago and the result was perfectly satisfactory. Much of the gold was coarse—some pieces being as large as three pennyweight pieces.

Messrs. John Huff and Virgo Moose have leased the property at the mouth of Yahoola creek, and are putting in a lift for the purpose of operating it. With as good a gold mine as this is said to be, coupled with the practical experience these gentlemen have in the business, they are bound to make it pay handsome profits.

The Ingersoll & Crissom dredge boat is still successfully operating in the Chestnut river. As stated recently, it is under the supervision of Mr. Keenum, who has much experience in dredging for the precious metal. We saw the clean up this week and it was splendid, and in it was one large nugget and a large number of small ones.

Mr. Fate Johnson, who recently struck the rich chute down on the Ivey property, was in town last Saturday exhibiting some of the ore which was rich enough with the yellow metal to give several the gold fever. It is near the Rockhouse vein but on an entirely new lead. Mr. Johnson is one of our most successful miners, having sufficient experience to find a mine, and know how to work it after he does.

Manager W. H. McAfee is moving things right along down on the McAfee-Lind Company's property. While securing timbers for the mill he is having ore taken out so as to have plenty when the mill is completed. Ten gold bearing veins have already been opened on this property and ore is being taken from two of them now. The prospect is very encouraging, for the rocks are speckled with the yellow metal and the loose material in the veins pan out much coarse gold. We had the pleasure of seeing a number of specimens of ore from this mine this week, all showing gold.

Agricultural Education.

Another objection made by some people to the introduction of agriculture in the public schools, is that so few pupils of rural schools become farmers or agriculturists, that the time devoted to agriculture is time wasted. Under our present system very few do become successful farmers and agriculturists; but in any case it is a waste of time? Are there not times when people of all professions may be benefited by a fair knowledge of the science of agriculture? Would it not be an advantage to the lawyers of our country to understand this science? Many of their clients are farmers and many of the disputes in which he takes part arise over agricultural subjects. Or, take the more sacred calling of our ministers. I believe their sermons would be much improved and in some cases the exposition of the Bible be more correct, if our ministers had a better knowledge of the science of agriculture.

Many of our finest parables are based upon the facts of agriculture. Then it seems to me if a large number of our rural pupils intend to go into the learned professions it is important that they know something of the great field of agriculture. A great number of men, with the highest literary attainments, spend many pleasant hours of recreation in the cultivation of fruits and flowers.

Again we hear some one say that the course in our public schools is all ready so full that there is no room for agriculture. I do not intend to place agriculture as the first of importance; but I do believe it would be a blessing to our country to have it substituted for some things which are there.

Let us contrast the conditions in the south with those of the state of Iowa. Both their farm products and farm property are worth four times as much as ours.

Within twenty years their farm property has increased 150 per cent while ours has only increased 50 per cent. We have rich land and many of our southern states have a greater diversity of soils than Iowa. We are as near markets and grow some crops they cannot grow—such as cotton, tobacco and rice. The average income of their farm workers is $511.00 per year, in the south it is possibly only $200. What is the cause of all this? They have had agricultural schools and have trained their farmers. They till their soil better, they know it better and they use more machinery and more intelligence. They have agriculture taught in the public schools.

We have been commencing at the top and working down, now we should commence at the bottom and work up. This can properly be done by introducing agriculture in the public schools. Who can tell the advantages and benefits likely to result from such a course? More knowledge would create a greater love for work, and greater love for work necessarily leads to success. Fewer of our boys would drift into the legal profession to become possibly second rate or third-rate lawyers, or there might be fewer to miss their calling and by some means or other get into the pulpit.

If we could picture the boys and girls of our country, receiving some right training in the first principles of agriculture, they would grow up knowing more about their work—would become more intelligent, brighter and more prosperous. Agriculture would assume its proper place, the foundation of the wealth of our country would grow at a tremendous rate, and this wealth would be more equally distributed than it could be by any other means. Our country would be filled with successful farmers, and "A contented, successful farmer is one of the richest assets of any state." CHAS. W. DAVIS, N. G. A. C.

Resolution by the City Council of Dahlonega.

The resignation of J. V. Harrison, Chief of Police of the City of Dahlonega, was read and the following resolution introduced by Councilman Boyd was unanimously adopted:

Since it has been deemed advisable by our worthy and efficient Chief of Police, J. V. Harrison, to sever his official relations with our city and to remove from among us his citizenship with a view to bettering the conditions and opportunities of himself and family.

Resolved, 1st. That we accept his resignation with genuine regret.

2nd. That we extend to him the thanks of the council for the able and efficient manner in which he has administered the affairs of the office, and for the general peace, harmony and good order that have been secured and maintained under his wise and fearless control.

3rd. That we recommend him to the kind offices of those with whomsoever he may cast his lot, not only as able and fearless officer of the law, but as a brightened, honorable, christian gentleman, having an interest in every good cause that looks to the betterment of society.

4th. That these resolutions be spread upon the Minutes and published in our city papers and that a copy be furnished Mr. Harrison.

Why He Died Rich.

"Anybody can make money, but it takes a philosopher to save it," observes Bent Murdock. "Not long ago an old friend of mine died, leaving a barrel of money, according to an exchange. He lay awake nights thinking up schemes to save money. I remember one of his habits of economy. He had a house full of children—ten or a dozen. It cost considerable to feed them. The old man evolved a scheme to cut down grub expenses. He would say to his children in the evening, 'Now, how many of you will take a nickel and go to bed without supper?' They all took nickels and went to bed hungry. The next morning the old man would say, 'Now, children, you all look hungry. How many of you will give me a nickel for a nice, hot breakfast?' and, of course, they would all cough up their nickels. The old man simply saved the cost of the children's supper. This is just one of the little schemes he evolved to save money. He had others. That's why he died rich."

Seldom has there been a better illustration of the folly of fraud than the case of a woman who, when she moved away from a town thirty seven years ago, left a grocery bill unpaid. The debt weighed on her conscience until she grew morbid and could not sleep, and for years she suffered from insomnia. A few weeks ago, on the advice of a lawyer, she paid the bill, then went to bed and slept soundly till ten o'clock the next morning. Now she wishes she had been honest long ago.

Many years ago the writer visited the Hawaiian Islands. In making a trip round one of the smaller islands we came one day upon a veritable bit of Eden. In the backgrounds were the mountains, reaching to the clouds; about us a half dozen grass houses, each in its setting of verdure, shadowed by coconut palms; below us the quiet waters of the lagoon, with the white line of barrier reef, and beyond that the sea reaching to the horizon. We sat down in the shade to rest, and a native came out to interview us. He was a perfect specimen of uncivilized man. In the prime of life, six feet tall, straight as an arrow, with a frank open countenance and inch wide lace pattern stripe tattooed in blue the whole length of each leg.

Said my guide: "Do you live here?"
"Yes."
"Always lived here?"
"Yes."
"Why don't you go to one of the plantations to live?"
"What for?"
"To work."
"For what?"
"To earn money."
"What do I want of money? I own my grass house, I own my vegetable patch, I own my canoe, I make my own nets and I don't wear any clothes; why should I work?"—Boston Transcript.

Largest Gun in the Country.

An official attached to the ordnance department of the United States army conceived the idea of exelling his predecessors by building the largest gun ever cast in the country. Finally, after much effort, he succeeded in having a bill passed in congress appropriating money to build a sixteen-inch gun, "the first of ten." The enormous piece of ordnance, which weighs one hundred and fifty tons and is forty-nine feet in length, is now mounted at Sandy Hook at the entrance to New York harbor. Its trial was successful, because the gun was fired without bursting, but it is safe to say that the remaining nine will never be finished. The needs of the service do not reach to the extent of hurling a ton of metal a distance of twenty-one miles. Still the gun is a record-breaker, and thus serves a purpose.—October Woman's Home Companion.

Down near Waycross, Ga., last week Mrs. Susie Strickland, while returning home, had pepper thrown in her eyes by a negro who then assaulted her, causing her to be practically blind. The negro escaped.

Fiddlers conventions have been held in several counties of Georgia and others are to take place. These conventions attract great crowds and are very interesting to those fond of "Devil on the Hill Side," and other similar fast tunes.

The bids for state convicts last Thursday ran high. The highest, $252—lowest, $175. Under these bids fully $215,000 net a year will be realized from 1,400 convicts. At present the convicts bring $96 to $101 a year, while under the new bids the general average price will be $225.

James Tillman was acquitted in South Carolina last week for the killing of editor Gonzales. Much interest was manifested in this trial. It required some eight or ten telegraph wires to accommodate the newspaper correspondence. The trial ended just eighteen days from the day the jury was drawn, and court was in session thirteen days out of that.

The Ohio State board of health today adopted a resolution by which their secretary is directed to take steps to prevent the sale of "toy pistols and other explosive appliances." The resolution recites that six hundred persons were killed, 109 made blind and 100 others injured on the last fourth of July.

E. S. Everett is the champion potato grower of Brooks county. This year has sold over $25 worth from less than a quarter of an acre. This should arouse the interest of some of our Lumpkin county potato raisers and cause them to use a little more energy and show what they can do in the way of profitable potato raising.

Dr. J. V. Jay, a well known physician of Barnardsville, N. C. slew his three children with a claw hammer and then tried to burn the house over them last week. As Jay approached the babe and caught it by the waist, it cried out in fear: "Papa, don't hurt me."

He paid no attention to this plea and raised-blow after blow upon the child as he held it in his arms, spattering blood in every direction and causing immediate death.

Death of Ex-Congressman Heardon.

A recent telegram announces the death, at Albuquerque, New Mexico, of Hon. W. S. Heardon, of Tyler, Texas, while enroute to Los Angeles, Cal., where he has been for his health. Heart failure was the immediate cause of his death.

Col. W. S. Heardon was a native of Lumpkin county, born near Dahlonega in 1835, and went with his parents to Texas early in life. He served in the 42nd Congress with Col. W. P. Price, of Dahlonega. Col Heardon was proud of the fact that he was a Georgian and a native of Lumpkin county. He was an able, sincere, honest man in public life and as such was greatly esteemed by Col. Price, who is much grieved at his loss.

A Washington correspondent says, under the new apportionment, causing inadequate seating facilities in the house, congressmen will find themselves badly crowded when they meet next month. Some will be worse crowded next year when the elections come along.

Local News.

Miss Lizzie Castleberry has gone to Atlanta to remain awhile.

Mr. Lige Beck is building him a residence on the lot near Marshal George Walkers.

Mrs. John H. Moore, after a few days' visit to Gainesville, returned last Sunday.

Rev. J. E. Blackburn occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church at this place last Sunday.

When you need any shingles, write Hatcheson Bros. All orders promptly filled, Freda, Ga.

Col. Baker will leave for Macon, Ga., next Sunday where he goes to attend the Grand Lodge of Masons.

A little rain fell here Friday night and Saturday morning but not enough to be of any benefit to miners.

Mr. V. R. Hix has gone down into Jackson county to teach, having been elected to the Bellview school.

Dr. H. C. Wheeler, after being confined to his room for several days, was able to go up into White county last Sunday.

Do you want the Atlanta Daily News for $3.00? If so let us send for you and relieve you of any trouble and expense.

All who are indebted to T. J. Smith, H. B. Smith or T. J. Smith & Bro., either by note or account, are notified to settle at once.

Services were held at all three of the churches here last Sunday, and those who desired to attend church, got their choice of preachers.

Every citizen of Dahlonega should see that their chimneys and stove flues are safe and no danger of fire. Burn out your chimneys when it rains so as to lesson the danger.

The progress of the drill by the cadets is certainly very commendatory to Maj. Tillson. The boys have become proficient in the various exercises in the manual of arms and also in marching.

Dr. Wheeler was up at Capt. Asbury's last Sunday afternoon and reported that the Captain was improving and would get up again if he had no back set, which will be good news to his many friends every where.

The way to build up Dahlonega is to talk for it and spend a little change when it becomes necessary to do something that will add to its advancement. This is one reason why Atlanta is constantly on rising ground.

There are just a number of people in Lumpkin county who have returned their household and kitchen furniture at five dollars, and we noticed one who gave his in a dollar. We are afraid some of them will freeze to death this winter.

A gentleman writes us as follows: "I send you a dollar for renewal. I don't want to miss a copy of the Nugget. I do not intend to do without it as long as I am able to pay for it. No good Lumpkin county citizen can afford to be without the Nugget, for it is the only real newspaper in the county."

In a few weeks a convention will be held for the purpose of nominating a mayor and four aldermen for the City of Dahlonega. Mayor Baker tells us that he will serve another term if the people want him. This we think will be very satisfactory to all, as the Colonel has performed his duties well and left no stone unturned that would advance the interests of the city.

Take it upon an average Lumpkin county is just as good a country as any place on the face of the globe and we mean to stay here just as long as we are permitted. Some months ago a certain fellow, becoming dissatisfied with this section, went away to better his condition, and a few weeks ago returned with only twenty-five cents in his pocket.

Marshal Walker has just had some improvements completed on his residence.

Only a few of the Dahlonega college cadets visited the Fair at Atlanta last week.

A three line ad. a few weeks ago brought us a job from Texas. It pays to advertise.

The change in the weather causes some of the wood haulers to carry a big broad smile and a little load of wood.

Being on the jury this week may cause a little delay in some of our job work, but we will come to see you later on.

The city marshal requests us to state that cases will be made against persons of Dahlonega not using disinfectants in their closets.

More than half the graves in the cemetery have been covered with sand and white rock and the others will receive attention right away.

Don't borrow your neighbors' Nugget and be so stingy. Send in a dollar and get one of your own so you can sit and read it with out feeling bad.

John Chatten was sentenced by Judge Newman last week to two years in the penitentiary and a fine of $500 for breaking into Wier post office in this county.

A certain person went into the ordinary's office the other day and settled off a debt by letting his wife schedule. Both may need assistance some time again and where do they expect to get it?

From a letter received by Mrs. Phillips last week concerning her husband who is in the lunatic asylum, we learned that the gentleman was more cheerful and seemed to be improving, so said the authorities.

This compliment comes from the Jackson County Herald: The Dahlonega Nugget contains each week, besides all the local news of Lumpkin county, more wit and originality than any paper that reaches our sanctum. We thought the editor would have exhausted his supply of wit and wisdom long ago, but like the proverbial perennial fountain, his spring of bright sayings never runs dry.

There is no excuse for any person attending the N. G. A. College not learning now. They have a study hall at the dormitory and when a young man gets behind with his studies, matters not where he boards, he is required to go to this hall where he can have the assistance of two professors. This is a much better plan than giving demerits. Occasionally one goes home rather than to do this, but it is better for the college, faculty and boy if he does not aim to learn anything, to return home and go to work before spending a whole lot of time and money for nothing.

We understand that Rev. Mr. Mark, pastor of the Methodist church at this place, says he is going to have Mr. J. F. Broach, a student of the N. G. A. College, "brought up." For what? Because Mr. Broach wrote an article to his home paper in the way of a defense of the N. G. A. College, which Mr. Marks tried to injure by his remarks at a meeting of the Methodist people at Monroe not long ago. This old man has stepped in the mire and he doesn't know how to get out. He wants Mr. Broach to write to the same paper and retract what he said about him. He tried to cause Col. Price to do the same thing after the Colonel defended the college in the Nugget against the preachers' sayings, but he failed. And it will be the same way with Mr. Broach. Mr. Marks is a funny old man. When the friends of the college were coming at him on all sides about this matter he fixed a date at the Methodist church to set himself right. A big crowd gathered on that day to hear his explanation, but he failed to give any, claiming that "a lot of co-salt-ing, my friends, I have decided to say no thing of a personal nature."

Mr. E. W. Strickland is foreman of the grand jury.

Mrs. W. W. Murray of Huntingdon, Tenn., is in the city.

Rev. J. C. Higgins will preach at the Baptist church at this place next Sunday.

Mrs. W. H. C. Tate has gone to Atlanta to be with her husband till he gets so he can return.

We regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Millard Dowdy, which occurred in this county last Saturday.

Messrs. Breen, Dr. Johnson and Roy of Nashville, were here yesterday looking at the Jumbo Gold Mine.

The proposed daily mail route from Dahlonega to Stay has not been established yet. The bids were not recognized.

In returning home last Tuesday Col. Howard ran his buggy against Tom Clark's wagon down on the road and broke three wheels.

WANTED.—By B. R. Meaders & Sons ten or fifteen hands to work on the Dahlonega and Dawsonville telephone line next Monday, beginning at this end.

The stockholders of the Gainesville & Dahlonega Electric Railway Co. met at Gainesville yesterday, but we have not yet learned what was done.

Col. Farrow of Gainesville was among the many visitors here this week. The Colonel closed out his hotel at Porter Springs on the 15th inst., after having a good crowd all the season.

The visiting bar here this week are: Cols. J. W. H. Underwood of Cleveland; H. H. Dean, F. M. Johnson, W. F. Findley, Howard Thompson, B. P. Gaillard, G. K. Looper, Gainesville.

Our esteemed friend Mr. W. H. Courtney of White came down this week, and reports everything all right now, but he says that Solicitor General Charters "skinned the boys" up there last week.

A gentleman who is interested in the land deal in this county was here this week and reported everything all right. He says all the land where the titles are good will be taken beyond a doubt.

Hon. F. C. Tate has been here this week mixing and mingling with his many friends in this county. Mr. Tate tells us that he is going to be in the race again for Congress. He has always gotten a strong vote in Lumpkin county and will likely do so again.

Mr. Thomas Bell, clerk of the Superior Court of Hall county, was here this week for the first time in eight years. It is said that Mr. Bell has a congressional bee in his hat, who, if he runs as well in the 9th as he does for clerk in Hall county, he will win by a big majority.

A good deal of time was consumed in court here this week concerning a mail contract. Caused by a sub contractor from one of the big non resident companies failing to carry his contract out. We are proud to say that there will be nothing of this kind any more, for hereafter these companies that have been awarded thousands of contracts, will not be in it. A contractor under the law now, of which Hon. F. C. Tate is the father, must live on the line or at either end.

The true value of the taxable property of Lumpkin county will never be known until we are given a board of assessors by the legislature. It is the duty of the grand jury at the spring term to examine the tax digests and see that all persons return their property at its true value, but it won't do it. We jurors will use every effort possible to have some poor fellow pay a fine or go to the chain gang for selling a quart of liquor and at the same time we will close our eyes when it comes to opening the tax digest to see if some of us have not money in our pockets that belongs to the state and county for taxes amounting to hundreds of dollars likely.

Mining Notes.

The mining outlook in this county is very bright now.

Owing to the numerous rich strikes on Jumbo we understand that the price of stock will advance soon.

We understand that a number of gentlemen living in Colorado purchased good blocks of Jumbo stock last week.

The boys down at the Lockhart are still busy taking the yellow metal from this celebrated mine in paying quantities.

We stated in our last issue that the hauling of the machinery to the Gorge would practically be completed last week. We misheard our informant. It was this week.

The Yahoola Lifting Co. down on the Standard property below the Singleton, have things in good shape now for operation and the prospect for a big yield of gold is good.

Down at the McAfee-Lind Gold Mine the timbers are all out ready for the erection of the mill which has likely begun by this time. The veins still show up fine and we bespeak for this company a rich harvest when the mill begins to run.

The old Barlow is certainly showing up fine. We saw some ore this week taken from a vein discovered by Joe Bonner some few weeks ago, while placer mining, that was excellent. The gold could easily be seen in the rock with the natural eye. In the placer work many nice nuggets have been found, among them was one weighing nine pennyweights.

Mr. W. B. Fry, mining engineer at Jumbo, was in the city last Sunday and reported that he cut another vein of ore last week in shaft No. 1, two feet thick and took out seven tons of free milling ore worth from $75.00 to $100.00 per ton. This is the fourth vein of rich ore cut in the shaft, altogether making a body of high grade ore five feet thick. The shaft is down 40 feet.

We call especial attention in this issue to the letter of Col. Price in regard to Jumbo mine. For the benefit of our readers who do not know Col. Price. We will state that he is the nestor of the North Georgia bar. He has represented this district in Congress of the United States, and has been many times a member of both houses of the Georgia legislature. Is the father of the North Georgia College, has been the president of its board of trustees since its organization. He has been a prominent and active member of his church, the Baptist, for fifty years and a man of the highest character.

The superintendent of the Gold Mining and Milling Co., informs us that he has just received a letter from Judge Shope of Chicago, in which he states that the company will be down in a very few days, and that the company intends to push matters at the mines from now on as fast as possible, in the way of completing ditches, dams, &c., and otherwise equip the old Briar Patch property in such a manner that she will soon be yielding up her precious metal in such quantities as to more than please her stockholders.

The Chestatee Association convened at Hightower church last Friday. Rev. W. B. Bryan was moderator and J. B. Simmons clerk. Some interesting speeches were made and an excellent sermon preached by Dr. Kimsey on Sunday to a large congregation. The next session of this body will convene at Mount Zion church in Fannin county. A committee to collect enough money to defray the expenses of printing the history of the body since its constitution. J. B. Simmons is the writer of this work and it is well gotten up. The different churches should easily raise the money by New Year and print the work which will show to the public what the body has done in 64 years of its existence.

THE JUMBO GOLD MINE.

Judge John Huff interviewed. Interesting History of the Property by Col. W. P. Price.

All our people know that the Jumbo Gold Mine is located six and one-half miles Northeast of Dahlonega on a tract of land containing two hundred acres, and that this property has recently become celebrated by the wonderful discoveries of gold made thereon by Judge W. W. Murray and his associates. Fourteen years ago Judge Murray began to purchase various tracts of land which now constitute the Jumbo Mine and it was a happy little conceit of his to call this mine Jumbo. Every one at all acquainted with the locality knew that much deposit gold had been taken out of all the branches and branch bottoms in that vicinity for more than sixty years, but during all that time veins from which the gold was washed into the branches and branch bottoms below them had never been found. So Jumbo, after he was christened, slept for years. But Jumbo awoke at last like Rip VanWinkle and found that Judge Murray and his associates, by persistent and intelligent development work had opened the rich veins which had fed gold into the branches and bottoms below and found ore containing the precious metal, which for quality and quantity had scarcely ever been seen in Lumpkin County elsewhere. The writer has no personal experience in mining affairs, nor any knowledge of the mining business, but he remembers in his youth hearing merchants who bought gold in small lots say that the gold taken from Cavender's Creek and its branches was the finest and best gold to be found anywhere. He also remembers that the late Col. Wm. Martin of Dahlonega, himself no inferior Geologist and judge of mining properties in Lumpkin County, accumulated all the lots he could buy in the vicinity of what is now Jumbo, more than fifty years ago. His advice to the writer during the war while both were in the Military service was, put your money in Cavender's Creek lots. Some day it will be found out that that is the richest gold mining section in the State. Col. Martin bought many lots, some of which have been sold to Judge W. W. Murray and are a part of the Jumbo Mine. Recent events and discoveries have proven that Col. Martin's faith was well founded and that the dream of wealth in the region of the Jumbo Mine by wise men fifty years ago has become a splendid reality. Rejoiced at hearing of the discoveries at Jumbo, and being told that quite a crowd of our citizens, including some of our foremost miners, had just visited Jumbo the writer called on Judge John Huff, our Ordinary, a few hours after his returning from the Mine, in order to learn if the glowing accounts were true. Every one goes to Judge Huff for facts about mines and mining. He was a miner when a lad, he was a miner when a young man, flushed with knowledge of Georgia mines and mining, he rushed in the forties to California and was a successful miner in that wonderful gold field. He became thoroughly acquainted with various modes of mining and the great sources of ore supplies in California. Returning to Georgia he became connected with many of the richest mines in Lumpkin County. The celebrated Findley Mine was operated by him. When the late Cols. S. M. Barlow and N. H. Hand of New York were casting about for a manager for their mines, after several others from a distance had failed, they procured the services of Capt. John Huff, who remained with these gentlemen seventeen years at the Pigeon Roost and other mines and mills and made these properties successful. Col. Hand often said to the writer, if you want a Georgia mine to pay get the services of the ablest and best Georgia miner for foreman. So the writer went to Judge Huff for facts and found him in the Court-house at his office and asked him what he had seen at Jumbo. He began by saying, only the half has been told about Jumbo. To learn the other half you have got to see it for yourself in order to believe it. I never knew but one mine to approach it in the extent and richness of the ore and that was the Ralston Mine close to the Pigeon Roost which belonged to Hand and Barlow and which I managed several years for them. I saw in the auriferous body of ores now open at Jumbo, say seven hundred feet wide, many rich veins varying in size from eight inches to twelve feet thick, many of these veins being of the richest ore I ever beheld in Georgia or elsewhere. Then I pursued the inquiry further. But you know Judge that many enterprises that bid fair have finally had to stop and the mills close down for the lack of ore to supply the mill. What do you think on the subject of ore supply at Jumbo? Well, said Judge Huff, my principal care when managing mills for Barlow and Hand was to keep a lookout for enough paying ores to keep the mills going night and day, and on that line of business I may say that I have gained much knowledge. The supply of ore at Jumbo is beyond my power to estimate. It is, as I might safely say, practically inexhaustible. At least it would take several generations to work it out, if then. In all my acquaintance with Georgia mines I have never seen a property where there were so much pay ore in sight and where the quantity was apparently so unlimited. Here, if any where mills might be erected with a view of being permanent, say for one hundred years to come, or more. One more question I will ask you Judge and then I will cease. Did you stay a sufficient length of time on the property, and look about you enough to say that the location is such, and the water supply sufficient to justify the erection of mills and modern machinery? To this Judge Huff answered, enough water can be saved and brought to the mills for steam and battery purposes, but a large plant should be operated by electricity which can be obtained from a plant on the Chestatee river four miles distant, now nearing completion. This would be much cheaper than steam power and much more satisfactory at all seasons. I believe that Jumbo will bring back to our Lumpkin County mines the prestige they once had, and will be pointed to in the future as one gold mine that will never fail. This article is written by one who has not a dollar of interest in Jumbo stock and is not connected in any way with its affairs, nor has he any land to sell in the neighborhood of Jumbo. Every acre of land that he ever owned or had any interest in that locality was sold long before the richest mine in Georgia was discovered.

W. P. Price, Sr.

Auraria Dots.

Several of our citizens attended court at Dahlonega this week.

After an extended visit with relatives in the North, Mrs. H. D. Jaquish returned to her home here one day last week.

Rev. N. A. White filled his regular appointment at the Methodist church here last Sunday.

Messrs. J. M. Smith and Bro. are getting up material to build them a two-story store house. All means business.

Rev. N. A. White, will preach at the M. E. Church, here next Sunday afternoon at 3:30. If the weather is favorable he will conduct a series of meetings here next week.

We are requested to state that there will be preaching at the Presbyterian church at this place next Sunday by Rev. Mr. Blacks well.

What is a Kiss.

Here are a number of clever definitions of a kiss:

A kiss is an insipid and tasteless morsel, which becomes delicious and delectable in proportion as it is flavored with love.

The sweetest fruit on the tree of love; the oftener plucked the more abundant it grows.

A thing of use to no one, but much prized by two.

The baby's right, the lover's privilege, the parent's benison and the hypocrite's mask.

The food by which the flame of love is fed.

The only known snack that will calm a storm.

A telegram to the heart, in which the operator uses the "sounding" system.

Nothing divided between two, Not enough for one, just enough for two and too much for three.

The only really agreeable two-faced action under the sun, or the moon either.

The sweetest labial of the world's language.

A woman's most effective argument, whether to cajole the heart of a father, control the humors of a husband or console the griefs of childhood.

The thunderclap of the lips, which inevitably follows the lightning glance of the eye.

A report at headquarters.

Everybody's acting edition of "Romeo and Juliet."

What the child receives free, what the young man steals and what the old man buys.

The drop that runneth over when the cup of love is full.—Ex.

The loading of a thirty-five ton railroad car with iron ore by steam shovel in the mine in three minutes comes pretty near eliminating the elements of time and manual labor in mining. Dumping ore into a vessel's hold at the rate of sixty tons a minute likewise seems to be about as close as it is possible to get to eliminating waste time. Both these records have been made recently.

Hard to Secure.

The postoffice department of the national government is facing a problem in the difficulty of securing postal clerks on the fast trains. This difficulty is due to the increasing number of railway wrecks caused by the greater number and higher speed of trains. It is the custom of railways to put mail cars next to the engine and the result is that in wrecks the postal clerks are exposed to great danger and rarely have any warning of their peril. A telegram to the St. Louis Post Dispatch under date of Chicago, September 29, says: "So far this year more than forty railway postal clerks have been killed and over 500 injured more or less seriously. In consequence the clerks are not attracted by the runs on the fast trains. Many of them have asked to be transferred from the trunk lines, where they get salaries of $1,500 a year, to the branch lines, where the maximum yearly salary is $1,000. Much trouble is experienced by the superintendents of railway mail service in securing men for the fastest mail trains."

A Big Farm.

The Oklahomans claim to have the largest farm in the Southwest. It is the 101 ranch in the Ponca reservation, and it is so big that it is necessary to plant several varieties of wheat in it—one of which ripens several days later than the other—in order that all of them may be harvested at the prime. On this farm the wheat fields are of 1000 acres each, the cattle pastures are of 1000 to 15000 acres each, and pastures 6000 head annually; the corn rows are one and a half miles long, requiring 500 mules and 800 men to handle the crop, and it takes 20 selfbinders three weeks to cut the wheat crop and a dozen or more steam threshers forty days to thresh it. There are 500,000 acres in the ranch.

To Raise New Bridge.

General Warner and Engineer Carlie appeared before the county commissioners Monday and asked permission to raise the New Bridge over the Chattahoochee river four feet higher in order that they might run boats under the bridge when the dam at the Dunlap shoals is completed. The water will be backed over the bottoms along the river at this point, and either an embankment will have to be thrown up from the foot of the hill to the foot of the bridge on this side, or the bridge will have to be extended from the present structure to the foot of the hill. An agreement will be reached with the electric company about the matter, and the former will be allowed to raise the bridge.—News.

The people living in summer homes at Muskegon, Mich., were surprised to see the other morning what appeared to be a veritable city, with its fine buildings and wide streets, in the clouds, with the base resting on the placid waters of Lake Michigan. The city's limits were a few feet from shore, while the western terminal was lost on the horizon. Report of phenomenon soon brought hundreds to witness the mirage. Some of those present easily recognized the principal buildings and distinctive features of Milwaukee, which is nearly opposite Muskegon. The mirage lasted for about two hours and gradually faded away.

All along life's pathway, we see people sidetracked, wavering, vacillating, who waited until their opportunities had gone by, until the tide had receded, until the nick of time was beyond their reach. There is nothing else which will so energize and brace up all the faculties as a habit of quick, energetic decision, and prompt action.—Success.

At the next session of the Legislature it will be asked for money to build a hospital for the Confederate Veterans Home in Atlanta.

Deadly

Grasp of Grip Prostrated Me.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Built Up My

Shattered Nerves and Gave Me an Appetite.

Of the millions of people, who today suffer from nervous or heart weakness, a large percentage trace the cause directly to deadly LaGrippe. It is a germ disease, and makes a direct attack upon the nerves, putting an extra strain upon them at the time their vitality is at the lowest ebb. If a Grippe has left you with a shattered nervous system, with loss of appetite, lack of energy, loss of sleep, frequent headaches and morbid tendencies, you should strengthen the weakened nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine. It will undo all that grip has done, bring back appetite, rest and restore the nerves to their normal activity.

"I want to write this testimonial for the benefit of those who have suffered from that dreaded disease—LaGrippe. I suffered several weeks with it, and nothing seemed to benefit me in any way, shape or form (I suffered almost death), and finally my daughter recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine to me and I can truthfully say from the first day I felt better than in weeks. It gave me relief, built up my shattered nerves and gave me a splendid appetite. I cannot speak too highly of it and want to say, each and every one who has suffered from LaGrippe will find instant relief by getting a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Insist on having it and take no other. It is simply splendid. Hoping this will benefit some poor sufferer I remain,"—Mrs. GEORGE B. HALL, Jackson, Tenn.

Grand Jury Presentments.

To His Honor, J. J. Kinsey,
Judge Superior Court of Lumpkin county, Oct. term, 1903:

We, the Grand Jury for Oct. term, 1903, having been chosen and sworn for this term, respectfully submit to your Honor our report for the present term. We entered upon our duties on Monday morning, after a very intelligent charge of your Honor upon the various subjects which would attract the attention of this body and we have carefully considered all the business brought before us and made a careful decision of all the matters pertaining to the attention of this body.

We find the county in a very reasonable condition, financially, and the public property carefully looked after by your vigilant Ordinary and a recommendation upon the subject of public property and bridges will be noticed further on. The financial report will show the workings of the county officers in their various offices, which shows that they have been vigilant in the discharge of their duties, and it is here appended.

REPORT.

Georgia, Lumpkin County.
To the Honorable Grand Jury of said county:

We, the Finance Committee, appointed by your honorable body to inspect and report upon the books of the various county officers, beg leave to report the following:

We have examined the books of the Ordinary and find them neatly and correctly kept. We find that the ordinary has paid out on the various funds since our last report the following sum:

On the County Fund.....	$320.54
On Bridge Fund.....	253.25
On Pauper Fund.....	85.50
On Jail Fund.....	238.75

Total, paid out by the Ord'y $898.09

We find the indebtedness of the County to be $833.50 of which the above is a part and which all the vouchers above stated have paid. We find the total indebtedness of the County, outside of the above, which is represented by out-standing orders, to be:

.....	$69.49
.....	$833.50

Total indebtedness..... $902.59

We have examined the books of the Sheriff and find them kept in accordance with law.

We find that the Sheriff has been paid the sum of $294.80, and that his proper account is the sum of $247.25, and that there is a balance due the Sheriff of $12.45, which we recommend be paid by the Ordinary.

We have examined the books of the County School Commissioner and find that he had on hand at the last report of the committee the sum of $883.10.

Received since last report..... 1016.09

Received from the Clerk of the Superior court, the same being one-half of the fines of Pearson Edmonson and Clyde Loveless, convicted of cruelty to animals..... 10.00

Total..... $1708.28

Amount brought forward..... $1708.28

By amount paid out on proper vouchers..... 1447.84

Balance on deposit..... $260.44

We have examined the books of the County Treasurer and find as follows:

Received since last report..... $839.69

Paid out on proper vouchers:

County Fund.....	$451.58
Jail Fund.....	297.50
Bridge Fund.....	91.50
Pauper Fund.....	20.00

Total paid out..... $839.50

Balance on hand..... $9.08

We have examined the books of the Receiver of Tax returns and find them neatly kept in accordance with law.

We have examined the books of the office of the Clerk of the Superior court and find them kept in a business like and correct manner. We find that the amount of insolvent cost due the officers of court to be..... $252.85

Collection from fines and forfeitures at the last term of court..... $227.30

Balance due officers of court $ 24.35

The Ordinary informs us that he has levied for this year, the sum of $5.00 on each $100.00 worth of taxable property as appears on the Tax Digest of the county, and we believe the same will be ample enough to pay all the indebtedness of the county and leave a neat surplus in the County Treasury. We congratulate the Ordinary on the fact that the first time in five years our state and county tax is only one dollar on the $100.00 dollars of taxable property, and feel that the same has been due to his economy and strict business principles in discharging the affairs of the county.

Respectfully submitted,
F. J. WILLIAMS,
JOHN WACASTER,
Finance Com.

We visited the jail in a body and find it cleanly kept, and we recommend that a new stable be built commensurate with the needs of the jailor, and suggest that the Ordinary build the said structure under his own supervision and that the said structure be eighteen by thirty feet with suitable stalls and loft to accommodate the wants necessary. The present structure is a disgrace to the county. It will not turn rain or sunshine, therefore, provender cannot be taken care of and stock cannot be made comfortable.

We recommend that the ground above the jail be so graded as to turn the water away from the jail, and some little repairs are needed which we hope the Ordinary will look after at once.

The court house needs some little repairs that should also be looked after.

We recommend the repainting of the Castleberry bridge be done at once, and that the Ordinary inspect all other bridges of the county and give them such repairs as is necessary to preserve the property. We find that a new floor is needed at New Bridge, especially.

We find that the roads have been worked out recently, with two exceptions—the one leading from the Cooper Gap road to the long tubes, and the one leaving the Ellijay road by Judge Brittain's farm—only two hands on the former road, and the latter no hands to work. We see no other chance but for the Ordinary to look after the said road.

The Grassy Gap road has been worked and in reasonable condition—according to the number of hands. It is reported that wagoners are in the habit of locking their wagons coming down the mountain by tying the limb or top of a tree to the hindmost part of their wagons and dragging same from top of the mountain to the foot of the same, thereby keeping the road all torn up after being fresh worked. We recommend that the Road Commissioners put a stop to this injurious habit.

It has been the custom to allow roads to go in bad condition until just before court, when the overseers would hurry to work them for fear of the law. This habit should be stopped and the roads worked out when they need it, and we enjoy on the Commissioners to attend to this matter.

We have found, after examination the books of the various Justices of the Peace and Notaries Republics of the county to be correctly kept except the book of A. W. Caldwell is not dated and properly signed. We recommend that the Justices in fault keep their records according to law and with pen and ink.

There is a vacancy in the 888th District, G. M., caused by the resignation of Scott Stringer, and we recommend the appointment of Geo. Peck, as a suitable person to be appointed as a Notary Public of said district.

As the term of Joseph B. Caldwell has expired as Notary Public in the Yahoola district, we recommend his re-appointment.

There is a vacancy of a Justice of the Peace in the Porter Springs district and we recommend that the vacancy be supplied as the law directs.

We find the following named persons receiving county aid for support: James G. Grizzle, $8 per month; Mrs. Williams, $8; Mrs. Cronan, $8; Mrs. James Sparks, $2; Mrs. Ayers, $3; Geo. Chapman, $8; Mrs. Gaddis or Abce, $8; Levi Stancil, $8; Mart Hashaw, $2; Manerva McMillan, $8; Charley Smith, (blind) $8; Ad line Alston, $2, and two inmates at paupers home taken care of at $5 per month each. We recommend that Mrs. Francis Turner, on account of age and infirmity, be paid $5 per month and remain where she now resides.

We are satisfied that some lands are returned less than 50c per acre. We recommend that the Tax Receiver take no return on lands for less than 50c per acre, and to see that all other lands are returned at a reasonable valuation.

We have received the report of the Tax Collector on special taxes, and find that he has collected from G. D. Bruce, photographer, $10.00; Gipsies, $25.00, and after deducting his commission of $2.50 cents, returned the balance of $22.50 over to the State Treasurer.

We recommend that the next Jurors be paid $1.50 per day. Bailiffs $1, except horsemen, and they be paid $1.50 per day, and we request that the Sheriff use no one on court service except bonded bailiffs.

We recommend that J. W. Woodward, our efficient Secretary, be paid $2 per day for his present service.

We find the office of Registrar, formerly occupied by E. S. Copeland, now a non-resident, is vacant. We recommend that J. W. Woodward be appointed to fill the vacancy.

On the Finance Committee we appoint William B. Townsend, Thomas A. P. Tate and G. McGoire.

We have carefully examined the Pension list and find no objection to the same.

In taking leave of your Honor, we return you our thanks for your able and intelligent charge, which enabled us to have great relief in the discharge of our duties, and also we thank the Solicitor-General for his prompt work in assisting us in bringing law offenders to proper punishment.

Our Bailiff, L. B. Walker, has been a faithful Constable in the discharge of his duties to this body, and in taking our leave, we return him our thanks.

We recommend the publication of these presentments in both the Dahlonega Signal and THE DAHLONEGA NUGGET, charging legal fees for the same, and equally divide the same.

We recommend that the Jay bridge, over the Hightower river at Jay, be repaired, or re-built provided it can be done not to exceed $200.00. In case the Ordinary cannot hire hands and attend to the work himself to let to the lowest bidder.

We recommend hereafter that all public work that cannot be superintended by the Ordinary to be let to the lowest bidder, except he finds he can have the work done for less.

Mr. John Hoff, our present ordinary, says that he may be a candidate for re-election.

The Monticello News found its way to our table for the first time last week. It is an elegant paper and the citizens of that thriving place should feel proud of it.

Mr. Dunk Hollifield says he thinks he will be in the race for county treasurer of this county next term. Mr. J. B. Brown, the present official, says on account of having had it two terms in succession he will not be a candidate for re-election.

In order to secure certification of his milk by the milk commission of New York City the dairyman must have a clean cement floor stable, with whitewashed walls and abundant windows. Cows must be sponged and their tails scrubbed before each milking. White suits must be worn by attendants, bottles and utensils scalded and filled bottles kept on ice and shipped only in refrigerators.

Mr. Jim Wood, who lives in Gritter, recently had a sow to give birth to eight pigs, all of which had fully developed teeth. The result was the sow refused to nourish the pigs. Mr. Wood got Dr. Ezzard and Dr. Haygood to extract the pigs' teeth, and from the mouths of the eight pigs they pulled 68 teeth. The pigs now being nourished by the sow and promise to develop into fine hogs, says the Dalton citizen.

An acre in early potatoes, and in onions, another in early cabbage, another in strawberries, a hundred good hens and two cows will one year with another give the family a better living than they can get out of an $800 salary, and the head of the house will have two thirds of the year to work at some other business, truthfully remarks the Marietta Journal. And there would be not only better living but better health. Stay on the farm.

This is from the Acworth Post: "The man who stood up for his town," was the subject of a sketch by a noted divine in an evening paper recently. No trait is more admirable in a man than loyalty to the community in which he lives. Stand up for your town and make people to know that you are proud of your citizenship, and like a great lecturer told a London audience of the American people, "if you are not proud of us we will make you so before we have done."

Last week down at the Canada Lumber Company camp in Worth county Ned Jack Ferguson colored, who had been sent up from Talbot county for life for murder, in 1895, rushed upon Henry Tucker, colored, with a knife and stabbed him to death. Henry Tucker was sent to the penitentiary from Sumter county in 1892, for horse stealing for fifteen years. The murderer was delivered to the sheriff of Worth county and will be tried for his crime. There was no apparent cause for the killing.

Commissioner of Pensions, J. W. Lindsay, says present indications are that there will be one thousand more applications for pensions in 1904 than there were in 1903. He says, however that this number does not represent the excess over last year's roll, for many of those have died or moved, but states that the list will be increased at least 300 names. He adds that while $16,000 was returned to the state treasury this year from the $870,000 appropriated for pensions, that next year the entire amount will be consumed without any being returned to the treasury, and with good chances there will be a deficit in the amount.

The Cabbage Worm Scare

It seems the people in a section of North Georgia are so alarmed by the report that a worm found in the cabbages grown there is of a highly poisonous character that they no longer have that vegetable on their bills of fare. The story that was circulated and sent to the newspapers was that a specimen of the worm had been sent to the state chemist, who had reported that it contained poison enough to kill fifteen people. It was also stated that several persons had died mysterious deaths, that all of them had eaten cabbage shortly before they died and that the conclusion had been reached that they were victims of the worm.

We did not publish the story because we were of the opinion that if any such worm had been sent to the state chemist and he had made the sensational report credited to him, the fact would have reached the public from Atlanta long before it was circulated in that part of the state in which it was attracting attention.

As a matter of fact, however, a specimen of the worm was sent to the Department of Agriculture at Atlanta, but it was not submitted to the state chemist. It was not thought necessary to submit it to him. The state entomologist pronounced it an "eel worm," but apparently did not think it of enough importance to give much attention to it. He did not think it would kill a person who swallowed it.

We call attention to this matter for the reason that as far as we know considerable loss has been inflicted upon the cabbage growers of North Georgia by the circulation of the story. There is no good reason for thinking that the worm is poisonous, or that it would cause trouble to any one getting it into his stomach in eating cabbage. It is probably a harmless parasite that can be easily washed off the cabbage on which it finds a lodgment, or which is wholly destroyed in the process of cooking that vegetable. There seems to be no doubt, however, that the worm caused a genuine scare in several North Georgia counties where the cabbage is extensively cultivated.—Savannah News.

Ruining The Negroes.

Judge William T. Gray, of the Richmond county Superior court, created quite a sensation Monday morning in charging the grand jury by eloquently attacking the State law that allows the negro to be a beneficiary of the school tax money paid to the counties and State by white citizens, says the Gainesville Eagle.

Judge Gray declared that he doubted the wisdom of these laws. He doubted if they were justice to the white people. He declared that as the law is now, the negro is being fitted for stations in life to which he cannot aspire with any hope of filling, and never can while the white race is supreme in the south. On the other hand, he is being unfitted for the walks of life that are open to him, as laborer, servant and field hand. Judge Gray declared the negro is being made dissatisfied, discontented and at war with life.

Judge Gray declared that in his knowledge Confederate veterans, who are hardly able to care for their own children and home, are forced to see a part of the mite of taxes he pays to the state go to the education of the negro. As a remedy for the evil, Judge Gray suggested the creation of a public sentiment that would lead to repealing of the present law. Judge Gray declared that the time is ripe for the agitation which will lead to such a sentiment in the south. Morality, his honor declared, did not come from education, neither could it be legislated into the human heart. The church and home was the place where it could be successfully taught.

Pickpockets have been getting in their work in Atlanta during the past few days.

Elections will be held in eleven states next Tuesday.

The cotton crop has been injured by the frost down the country.

Uncle Dick Wheeler says he thinks of making the race for county treasurer again.

It is said that Capt. W. J. Worley is thinking of making the race for clerk Superior court in this county next time.

Near Jackson, Miss., this week, a negro girl left to nurse two white children, got tired of them and choked both to death.

T. S. Wenyer, an aged Confederate, died in Atlanta last week resulting from a wound received in the war forty years ago.

A bailiff was fined $500 for fighting a negro woman in Atlanta some time ago, whose big lip caused him to lose his temper while in the discharge of his duty.

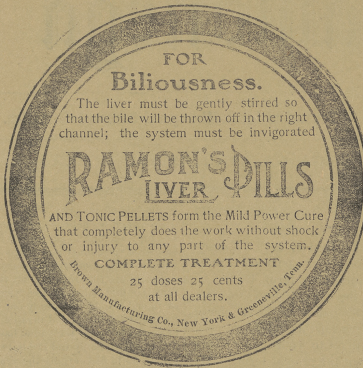

The cashier of a New York bank stole one hundred thousand dollars, spent it on a woman, and did not get her. We borrowed a dollar and a half, spent it on one and got her. That's the difference says the Harmony Grove Citizen.

A special from Columbus, Ga., says: The sale of cabbage in this section has decreased very materially since the report that poisonous worms have been found in them. Dealers say the business of handling cabbage has been seriously injured.

"How dear to our heart is the steady subscriber, who pays in advance at the birth of each year, who lays down his dollar and lays it down gladly, and casts around the office a halo of cheer. He never says 'stop it I can't afford it', nor 'I'm getting more papers than I can read', but always says 'send it—the family like it—in fact, we all think it a household need.' How welcome he is when he steps in the sacrum, how he makes our heart throb, how he makes our feet dance. We outwardly thank him, we inwardly bless him; the steady subscriber who pays in advance."—Americus Press.

Millard Lee will have to be re-sent by the Governor again unless the Supreme Court decides his case before next Friday another stay of the execution will be necessary as when the last respite was granted in July, it was limited to Oct. 30. If a motion for a new trial is refused then Lee will be hanged, but it is stated by Lee's attorneys that they have no possible doubt of the result as the ruling of Judge Roan they say was wrong. If Lee gets a new trial and the next jury before which he is tried finds him sane another appeal to the Supreme Court will be taken. The next respite will make the seventh time that Lee has had his death sentence stayed by the governor.

We understand that Col. Price is in Atlanta this week endeavoring to get a pardon for the Beasley boys who were sent up from Lumpkin county 20 years each not long ago, convicted of killing two men not far from Dahlonega, who will likely be successful in his efforts.

FOR SALE BY DR. C. H. JONES.

Mr. Ellis Beck and Miss Nellie Roberts, a daughter of Mr. Al Roberts, of this place, were wedded in Gainesville last Wednesday, both of Dahlonega.

Sheriff Davis went down near Auraria yesterday and arrested Dick Williamson, who is charged with burglary, by breaking into Mr. Jack Casiberry's house some time ago while the owner was absent and taking some gold nuggets.

Edgar Loveless, after working in the Nugget office over two years has decided to move to Dawson county, live with his relatives and make a crop. He is a good, industrious boy and not an ill word has ever passed between us during all this time. Success to him is our best wish.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie on my back nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Surgar Dunbar

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

Local News.

Mr. F. M. Meaders moved to Gainesville this week.

It will pay you to pull for your town. Let everybody try it.

See notice of second round of tax collector in another column.

Good apples have been selling at $1.00 per bushel here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe of Macon, Ga., visited Dahlonega last week.

When needing any dry goods or groceries call on C. W. Satterfield.

Mr. Harry Thomas was up from Gainesville to see his folks last week.

Tax paying time is on hand now. Have you the money? If not the collector will get it for you.

Mr. W. G. McNeelley, former editor of the Cherokee Advance, was here yesterday on business for the Atlanta Journal.

Moers, J. E. Moore and J. B. Clements went up into White county last Tuesday to examine some mining property.

There is some talk of a call session of Lumpkin Superior Court being held in order to get through with the business that had to go over.

As we stated last week a little delay was caused in getting out some job work on account of the writer being on the jury. All work is now ready. Send in.

The Nugget is receiving a liberal share of patronage not only from the citizens of Lumpkin county, but various other sections. Accept our thanks, please.

There are a large crop of acorns in the mountains but no hogs to eat them in the stock law range, causing those who vote for the stock law to have to buy Chicago meat.

The October number of The Tablshuekan is upon our table again under entirely new management. It is neatly printed and ably edited. Success to both printers and editors.

Rev. D. J. Blackwell, pastor of the Presbyterian church at this place, moved to Gainesville this week. Mr. Blackwell prefers remaining here but he has to go where he is directed.

We understand that Anderson & Jones of Dahlonega have bought the stock of goods at Wild, Ga., with the intention, we suppose, of running a branch house in connection with their business here.

Yes it pays to advertise in the Nugget. Last week soon after B. R. Meaders & Sons advertised for bands to work on the telephone line from here to Dawsonville, several applied for a job.

Attorney B. P. Gaillard, formerly of Dahlonega but now of Gainesville, created much interest here last week by making one of the ablest speeches ever delivered in the court house by any young man. He was born and reared in Dahlonega and we all feel proud of him, only regretting that he has located in Gainesville instead of Dahlonega.

Only a short time ago a young man of this county was under the impression that he could have a better time away from home and left out. Since then he has realized that there is "no place like home" and wrote back for money to return on. Boys who have an inclination to leave their parents should remember this and let well enough alone.

Elsewhere will be found an editorial concerning the cabbage worm clipped from the Savannah News, which will be found of much interest to all the people of this section, showing that these little "reptiles" are not so dangerous after all. We are glad to learn this, for the cabbage industry of this county is a big thing and if these little worms, snakes or what ever they are, were as dangerous as first reported it would cause the farmers of this section to lose hundreds of dollars every year.

Mr. B. R. Meaders is now down in South Georgia.

The grand jury presentments will be found on our first page.

The department has decided not to establish the daily mail from here to Stay.

There is yet an old home made ax in the court house that was likely made fifty years ago.

Mr. Rufus Lilly of this county, was wedded last Sunday to Miss Laura Smith of Dawson county.

When you need any shingles, write Hutchison Bros. All orders promptly filled, Freda, Ga.

We have just received another nice lot of stationery. When you need any job work either come or send.

All who are indebted to T. J. Smith, H. B. Smith or T. J. Smith & Bro., either by note or account, are notified to settle at once. If

We have had both frost and ice this week, but it didn't stop the music of the wild mocking bird that stays about Dahlonega.

Mr. James Bearden tells us that he had five steel traps set the other night and the next morning caught four musk rats, thus saving much corn.

The superior court held until after night Saturday and a good deal of matter had to go over till the next term. The grand jury wound up its business in four days, but so many non-resident witnesses in various cases and special jurors made it an unusually expensive court.

We had the pleasure last week of meeting for the first time Mr. J. Roy Boone, secretary of the Landis Banking Co., Nashville, Tenn., who was down looking at the Jumbo property and seemed delighted with what he saw up there. It is certainly a wonderful gold mine.

Mr. H. L. Smith accompanied by Prof. Hodge, gave a very interesting show at the court house last Thursday night. Mr. Smith has to reside in White county, but is now located in Alabama and hasn't been in Dahlonega before in 29 years. Most all of his old acquaintances are dead. His show was well patronized and appreciated.

Mr. N. C. Tankersley a man who every body in this whole country knows and likes, spent the past week in Dahlonega from Auraria. He got acquainted with many of the school boys while here. They all call him "Uncle Bony" and what he had to say about his first visit to Atlanta many years ago, wearing a long jeans square tail coat, was right interesting to them.

Mr. W. A. Carroll, who left White county thirty years ago, is here on a visit to his relatives. His father hadn't heard from him in four years, and believed his son dead and when he came in the other night it was certainly a happy meeting. Mr. Carroll comes from the cold region of Alaska where everything is now frozen up and no chance to reach that country any more before June. He came out on the last vessel leaving that country in September. What he has to say about that section is very interesting. Wages out there run as high as $15 per day. He has gone now to Colorado.

Robt. Long, who killed Henry Clark in this county a few years ago, was tried and acquitted here last week by the following jury, to-wit: W. H. Early, W. M. Elkins, John W. Early, Wm. Hutchison, Sam Teal, T. J. London, J. H. Redmond, G. D. Bruce, Jas. A. Calhoun, Jasper Satterfield, A. M. Martin, J. W. West. The state was represented by Cols. Charters of Dahlonega and B. P. Gaillard of Gainesville. The defendant by Cols. R. H. Baker and O. J. Lilly of Dahlonega. The jury was not out more than an hour and a half including dinner hour. Both the state and the defendant were ably represented, each attorney doing his entire duty.

Our young friend Mr. Tom McAfee is here on a visit this week.

Postmaster W. H. C. Tate has returned from Atlanta very much improved.

The grand jury was in session four days and returned fourteen true bills.

The U. S. geological surveyors have been camped in this county for some time.

Hon. G. D. Bruce is now in Ducktown, Tenn., for awhile, taking pictures.

Mr. John Hatfield and Mr. Geo. Jenkins left yesterday on a visit to Bessemer, Ala.

Dr. Head lost his watch the other night between Dahlonega and the Yahoola bridge.

Judge W. W. Murray leaves next Saturday and will be absent about three weeks holding court.

Mr. Breymann didn't get to come to Dahlonega when he expected, but writes that he will be here soon.

They have commenced digging the holes for the telephone line from Dahlonega to Dawsonville.

New corn has been bringing 60 cents per bushel in Dahlonega. Earlier still ranges from $1.25 to $1.60 per hundred.

Mr. E. W. Strickland will leave this week for Bessemer, Ala., where he expects to follow the carpenter's business awhile.

After some three or four months absence from Anniston, Ala., Mr. John Wheelchel returned home yesterday to resume his work in the post office again, provided that he has recovered sufficiently from his recent spell of sickness to stand it.

Mr. Joe Rider has moved back from Hall county to his old home in Lumpkin. Mr. Rider says that his cotton crop was a failure on account of its destruction by a hail storm and he is now going back to corn raising again.

Last Tuesday Mr. Gordon Rice, while out hunting near Judge Brittain's farm, discovered a black snake wrapped around a large owl, trying to squeeze it to death. The owl was relieved by his enemy and brought home alive.

We noticed our old friend and schoolmate, Mr. Daniel Grice of Forsyth county, in Dahlonega last week. Schoolmates are like old soldiers, they love to meet each other, on account of strong ties that will bind them until the journey of life is ended.

We understand that the biggest mine at Ducktown has been enjoined and expects to close down soon. A number of Lumpkin county hands are over there who will be thrown out of work. It will be a great drawback to the hundreds of other miners engaged there.

Mr. Ens Anderson, residing in Porter Springs district, has been troubled a good deal with sickness in his family. Two of his daughters have had typhoid fever and as soon as they recovered from the fever, lost their minds. The first one is getting all right now and we trust that the other will. We certainly sympathize with Mr. Anderson and his family in their hours of distress.

You will find at M. J. Williams stove pipe and elbows at 15 cents each. Outing from 5 to 12 1/2 cents per yard. Ladies capes and jackets 45 cents to $1.50. Loose cotton 10 cents per pound. 5 1/2 pairs Ladies, Misses and childrens shoes at exactly wholesale prices. Come and examine them. I bought lot at a bargain and will give my customers the advantage of it. Knit shawls from 25 to 50 cents. Misses hoods cheap. Red blankets 75 cts to $2.25 per pair. Bridle bits 10c. Red, white and blue woolen flannels cheap. White counterpanes cheap. Gents underwear all sizes and prices. Ladies dress goods. Smoothing irons 50c per pound. Big line of towels. Call and see and get prices.

A full line of Black Cat Hosiery at J. F. Moore & Co.

Mr. Hughes Anderson returns to Alabama tomorrow.

Col. W. P. Price went down to Atlanta on a visit this week.

Mr. Thomas Weaver and family moved to Ducktown last week.

All the inmates of the jail, sentenced to pay fines or go to the chain gang, have paid out except Harris Postell.

WANTED.—Teams to go down near Marietta to haul dirt as early as possible at $3.00 per day.

The thieves are not all dead yet. Only a few nights ago Capt. J. W. Woodward, who runs the Wimpy mill, lost 91 pounds of meal.

The term of stenographer R. J. Swain expired with the closing term of Lumpkin Superior court and he left for home this week to the regret of his many friends throughout this section.

A couple of telephone poles on Clarksville street belonging to the Consolidated Co., fell last Monday night, breaking and tangling up the wires considerably all along that part of the street. There are other decayed poles at various places in Dahlonega which should receive prompt attention before some one is either seriously injured or killed.

This is what the Tablshuekan, the college paper, run by the students, says about Dr. Avis, the president of the college: "Our new president, Dr. E. S. Avis, is a thoroughly competent man for the position. He is putting things forward in the way they should go. He puts fire and energy in everything he undertakes. Before five years shall have expired we shall be prouder of the North Georgia Agricultural College than ever before."

Mining Notes.

We can't remember of ever seeing two dry years in succession here before like this and last. It is a great drawback to the mining industry. Work had to suspend down at the Singleton last week on this account. It was paying well and we are sorry that such is the case.

Jumbo Gold Mining Company is backed by substantial values. Every stockholder is part owner of this great mine. There is no preferred stock. The pay ore is in abundance. No expensive tunnels necessary to reach it. The underground development now being done daily, is opening up new bodies of rich ore, both free milling and concentrating ore.

We know of no mine in Georgia where so much pay ore is in sight, nor where future development promises so much to the stockholders. In shaft No. 1, at a depth of 40 feet, five veins of high grade are opened, constituting a body of quartz of about five feet in thickness. The ore now being taken from this shaft would be classed as high grade in any mining camp. Parties desiring large returns from a small amount invested, should visit this mine and examine it for themselves while the stock is offered at 15c per share of one dollar. There is no doubt but what the price of stock will be advanced to 20 or 25 cents in the near future.

A rich and better vein has been struck in No. 2 shaft since penning the above. A number of persons went up to see it yesterday all of whom were well pleased.

Johnson and others contemplating making big money with a lift down below the Singleton, had to abandon it. They got the line down but found that they didn't have sufficient pressure. They are satisfied the mine is all right and would pay well but are unable to work it for the reasons given above.

The Pyrites Company still has a good force of hands moving the work along with a vim.

Mr. McAfee tells us that the McAfee-Lind Gold mine is proving itself to be one of the richest in the in this whole country.

Although we have plenty of water down on our premises at home we are not running a laundry and any clothing carried there will be burned up by us as it is strictly against our orders.

Mention was made in these columns last week in reference to The Sellers Tent Awning Co., Columbus, O., receiving money from Hon. G. D. Bruce of Dahlonega, for a tent and not sending it, after about four weeks, and who had made several enquiries about the matter without any attention being paid to them. A few days ago the tent was received by Mr. Bruce and the company has proven to be perfectly responsible. The delay was caused by the railroad, not the Tent Company. We have received a letter from the Company requesting us to correct the matter, referring us to Mr. Breymann, who we all know here, as to its responsibility, and we give this notice with pleasure.

Although we have plenty of water down on our premises at home we are not running a laundry and any clothing carried there will be burned up by us as it is strictly against our orders.

Schools Having Courses in Agriculture.

Within the last two years a number of States have introduced agricultural courses in their various schools. The experiments and results of the establishment of these courses have demonstrated their value and feasibility, and the work is growing rapidly in many sections of the United States. These courses are found in five different kinds of schools as follows: (1) High schools connected with agricultural colleges; (2) Separate agricultural high schools endowed by the State; (3) Private agricultural schools; (4) agricultural courses in normal schools; (5) agriculture courses in the public schools. I shall describe briefly the work in the various schools named above, taking them in their order, showing something of the work done, and in what states they are found.

1. Minnesota has almost an ideal agricultural high school. It is on the grounds of the State University and as far as its needs require, uses the equipment of the University. It has an enrollment of about 400 students and 35 instructors including professors of the University and special instructors, many of whom are experts in the various lines of Agricultural Science. Both sexes are admitted—the girls substituting domestic science and practice for the shopwork and a portion of the agriculture. The young men have practical experience in the field work at the University farm. The course is one-third industrial, one-third scientific and one-third of academic studies. Prof. Hays, professor of Agriculture in the University of Minnesota, speaks of this school as follows: "Nearly all the graduates of the school not only return to the farm, but generally succeed. Many of the young men are growing into leadership in their respective communities and many more by their quiet example are bringing about a more hopeful view of country life and farming, and are thus setting the pace for many neighbors. In some counties this influence is being clearly felt."

The university of Neb. has a similar school with an attendance of 118 boys last year.

2. The Legislature of Wisconsin has passed an act for the establishment of County agricultural high schools, to be under the general supervision of the State superintendent of public instruction—the State paying one-half the amount expended for instruction. On account of the lack of trained teachers in agriculture very few of these schools have been established so far.

The State of Alabama has an agricultural high school in each Congressional district—the State appropriating $2500 for each school. These schools are used as feeders to the State University. Their graduates enter the Junior Class at the University. No other state in the U. S. have a system like this. Over 2,000 boys annually attend these schools.

3. Private agricultural schools have sprung up in New York, New Jersey, Pa., and Ind. One of the most prominent of these schools is the national Farm School, at Daylestown, Pa. This school has a farm of 122 acres, fine buildings, dormitories, laboratories, barns, greenhouses and live stock. The students are largely drawn from cities and reside at the school during the entire year. A large part of the labor is performed by the students. A number of its graduates are in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Washington College, East Town, has a good course in agriculture, a fine farm of 340 acres, well equipped and cultivated almost entirely by students. A number of students from East Tenn., N. C., S. C., West Va. and Ky. enter her industrial department, some of these pay all of their expenses by work on the farm.

4. In order to prepare teachers to give instructions in the public schools of the State, Missouri has introduced the agriculture into her three leading normal schools. One of these schools give 40 weeks to agriculture instruction.

5. Very few states have a good course in agriculture in the public school, although quite a number require Elementary Agriculture. Georgia has a legislative act requiring agriculture to be taught in the public school, but the Supt. of Public Instruction says, teachers are not required to take the examination in Agriculture. It seems to me under this state of affairs it is like the "blind leading the blind."

CHAS. W. DAVIS,
N. G. A. C.

Those who say that there is no such thing as a mad dog, read this clipped from the Marietta Journal. Three weeks ago Mr. C. E. Henderson's little son, Ryburn, was driving his goat to a little wagon on the square when a strange dog came along in a run and bit the goat in the nose, lacerating it badly. Last week the goat began to show symptoms of hydrophobia and where it was peaceful before it became wildly mad, and rushed upon dogs, chickens, or anything else in sight with ferociousness. The goat was fastened up in a barn and he butted the door like a dead end collision of a train, splitting the plank. The goat became so violent on last Thursday morning that Mr. Henderson had to kill it. The dog that bit it went on its way and doubtless bit other animals and hydrophobia may develop.

An old negro woman in Harmsy Grove is jubilant over the new vagrancy law, reports the Jackson Herald. She has several children, who have been persistent heretofore in their refusal to work, and in expressing her opinion of the law, she says: "Thank you, boss, thank you, sah! Dat vagrancy law am de best law dat ever was made in Georgy. Fore dey passed it, my chillun wouldn't work. Now dey gits up fore day and is in de cotton patch fore sun up. Thank you, boss; thank you, sah!"

Speaking of the acquittal of Jim Tillman, the Augusta Tribune states the case in the following true words: "But though Col. Tillman has been declared not guilty by a jury of his peers the fact remains that he killed his enemy, and that he shot him down when he was unarmed and unprepared to defend himself. To say that this homicide was committed in self-defense, and was made necessary because the slayer's own life was in jeopardy at the time, would be an insult to intelligence."

A Merchant Cured After Having Given Up Hope.

Foley & Co., Chicago.
Gentlemen—I was afflicted with Kidney and Bladder trouble for six years and had tried numerous preparations without getting any relief and had given up hope of ever being cured when FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was recommended to me. After using one bottle I could feel the effect of it, and after taking six fifty-cent bottles, I was cured of Kidney and Bladder trouble and have not felt so well for the past twenty years and I owe it to FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE.

A Veteran of the Civil War Cured After Ten Years of Suffering.

R. A. Cray, J.P., of Oakville, Ind., writes:—"Most of the time for ten years I was confined to my bed with some disease of the kidneys. It was so severe I could not move part of the time. I consulted the best medical skill available, but got no relief until FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was recommended to me. I am grateful to be able to say that it entirely cured me."

Cured

At 70 of Heart Disease Contracted

During Civil War—
Veteran Grateful.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure
Effected Cure.

Heart disease is curable, but in people of advanced age it does not readily lend itself to ordinary treatment. There is, however, hope for all sufferers in Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which we know from watching hundreds of cases and from the letters of grateful sufferers, will cure where all else has failed. It is not only a wonderful cure for weak and diseased hearts, but it is a blood tonic, a regulator of the heart's action and the most effective treatment ever formulated for improving the circulation of the blood.

"During the Civil War I contracted heart disease, and in 1866, while living in the grand old town of Lexington, Va., I grew so much worse, I left there and went to live in a small town in Alabama, Mrs. T. A. Kirby, at Rosnoke, Va. While I was in the hospital, I was expected to live to return to the dear old town. On reaching Mrs. Kirby's the nearest I should try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I procured a few bottles of it, also the Nerve and Tonic. After using one or two bottles, I could see no improvement, and I despaired of ever being better, but my faithful wife insisted on keeping it, which I did. Improvement soon began in earnest and I took in all fifteen or sixteen bottles. I was restored to perfect health and while I am 70 years old, I am comfortable as a boy. You are a benefactor, and I cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to suffering humanity."—J. L. Stacuitte, Salem, Va.
